A STUBBORN WITNESS. BEFORE THE PAN-ELECTRIC COM-

A Journalist on the Stand Refuses to Tell Where He Obtained Information-A Letter That Was Written to George Jones, of the New York Times-Two Reports to be Made.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—[Special.]—There will be two reports from the house Pan Electric committee. The majority report to be prepared by Chairman Boyle will exonorate Attorney Geeneral Garland and the other government officials who were connected with the Pan Electric company. The minority report to be prepared by Ranney, of Massachusetts, "will," he "says, "contain nothing but the facts," which," he adds, "are bad enough without any comments."

THE DAT'S PROCEEDINGS. WASHINGTON, May 11.—In the Pan-Electric investigation today E. N. Hill, whose name has frequently appeared in former-proceedings, took the stand and testitified that he was an attorney at-law and journalist. He had done good deal of work for Casey Young, but and never regarded himself as being in young semployment. During the winter of 884 Young had requested witness to do some writing for him, and in doing that work witness had acquired some knowledge 1884 Young had requested witness to do some writing for him, and in doing that work witness had acquired some knowledge of Pan-Electric affairs. When the newspaper agitation commenced, witness, understanding that a political attack was about to be made against the gentlemen connected with the Pan-Electric company, had written out a fair and correct statement, making no attack upon the gentlemen, and simply setting out the facts. Witness had given the statement to Major Clark, a Tribune correspondent, requesting him to hold it until correct statements should appear in other papers. After ten days correspondents had told him that certain Chicago papers had begun the attack when the article was released and published in the Tribune. The correspondent had added many facts of his own knowledge and witness's statement was but a list of stockholders in the company. Later when witness had taken the story to Crawford, the World correspondent, he (witness) had said that he could not see that the Pan-Electric people had done any wrong, which had led Crawford to remark that he must be obtuse. Certain statements in publication were incorrect (notably reference to Senator Vance) but they had been made upon representations made to witness by some one else.

Mr. Ranney wished to know the name of his informant, but witness declined to tell, saying he was not going to involve any one else by what he said. His object in making the statement, he said, was to have the facts go out straight's as he knew they would be otherwise tortured and twisted politically in a great many ways. He didn't see anything in his statement that reflected in the least on the gentlemen named therein. Although he had been paid for the article by the World correspondent, it had not been prepared originally for publication.

ent, it had not been prepared originally or publication.

Mr. Oates wished to know why the witness ad written the statement, to which he relied that Oates had no right to know. He had of guarded the Pan-Electric people because they were democrats, but because some of them has friends.

Mr. Oates inquired if witness did not regard.

were his friends.

Mr. Oates inquired if witness did not regard his relations with Young while engaged on the Pan-Electric books as confidential.

Witness replied that he did not know. The hooks lay open on the table, and many persons were in the room. At the meeting at 1237 G street, witness had been told of that by another person, not connected with the Pan-Electric, whose name witness absolutely refused to divulge. His informant had said that Mrs. Rents, the landlady of the house, would make an affidavit that General Garland had attended that meeting.

the chairman insisted that the witness fursh the name of his informant, as the com-nication was not of a privileged nature. Witness replied that it was a matter entirely Witness replied that it was a matter entirely within his own discretion. The communication was confidential, and he would not disclose the name of his informant. He was, he said, a member of the bar, licensed by the supreme court of the United States, and coald, if he chose, claim that he stood in the relation of counsel to the client in this matter.

Mr. Cates said that charges had been made that the attorney general had attended that meeting, and it was proper to inquire into it.

that the attorney general had attended that meeting, and it was proper to inquire into it.

The committee then, by unanimous vote, directed witness to answer the question, but he still refused. Thereupon Mr. Ranney moved that witness be presented to the house for contempt, but did not ask immediate action.

Mr. Oates laid before the committee the following letter, addressed to the chairman of the committee by J. M. Forbes, of Boston.

Boston, May 6.—I find in the Boston Journal of this instant, a dispatch which says that George Jones, of the New York Times, in his examination before your committee, makes the following statement:

before your committee, makes the following statement:

"Forbes had written to me that his son was a large owner in the Bell telephone company and wanted me to write to the president of the United States to interfere in behalf of his patent." Upon examining a copy of the letter referred to, I find that this testimony does not fairly represent its purpose or object, which, doubtless, was owing to the unfortunate loss of the letter. To correct the unfortunate loss of the letter. To correct the unfortunate loss of the letter. To correct the unfortunate copy, which you may deem it best to lay before the committee. Perhaps, after Mr. Jones reads it once more, he may find it a pity that he did not follow its suggestions.

Respectfully.

Respectfully.

The letter enclosed by Mr. Forbes is as follows:

By reason of my son's connection with the American Bell telephone company. I have become acquainted with some of the facts in connection with the Pan Electric telephone company's efforts to have Attorney General Garland authorize tsuits to be brought for vacating the Bell company that they feel no anxiety as to the dinal results of any action taken by the government in this matter, though admitting that much temporary annoyance will result should Garland acquiesce in the result of his company. Looking at it from a wholly different point of view—that of an independent voter—and in the fact of all who supportland desire to support Cleveland, it seems to me the mistake of Garland's department is permitted to lend any countenance to the scheme proposed by the company in which he is so largely interested. There is no doubt that all the matters contained in the claim which it is proposed that the United States should set up have been held and decided in the circuit courts of the United States and these cases are well advanced for a hearing on appeal to the supreme court. There is no doubt that all the matters contained in the hope of obtaining indefinite delay in the suits for the injunction against the Pan Electric company already ripe for hearing before the court at Baltimore, on the ground that no such suits should be heard while the government suit was awaiting a hearing. There is equally no doubt that an attempt is being made by a syndicate of southern syndicate is interested. There can be not doubt that an attempt is being made by the summer of the democratic administration in the interest of an enterprise of, to say the least, a highly speculative character.

And to throw we have the influence of the democratic administration in the interest of an enterprise of the injunction and the claim now the respective of the government is being made by a syndicate of southern syndicate is interested. There can be not obtained the court at a most interested ferred to the committee on privileges and elections.

A number of petitions presented and referred, praying congress to enact legislation against oleomargarine.

After the routine morning business, the interstate commerce bill was taken up and its consideration resumed.

Mr. Morgan formally offered his amendment to punish, by fine and imprisonment, men who conspire to stop or interfere with the running of trains engaged in interstate commerce.

Mr. Morgan said this was a necessary provision. While congress had in hand regulation of commerce between the states, it should see that travel between the states, it should see that travel between the states, it should be kept free. It was the right of the whole people to insist upon a free interchange of commerce, whether a railroad company, mob or conspiracy of individuals was something that congress should regulate, and congress could not escape this duty if it undertook to do anything at all in connection with interstate commerce. In moving the amendment, Mr. Morgan knew he was running against the powerful sentiment of large class of recole who had asserted the was running against the powerful sentiment of a large class of people who had asserted the right to interrupt, at pleasure, the movements of commerce between the states. But every man concerned—certainly every American-born citizen—when he should consider the matter, would say that it was the duty of congress to exercise its power against anything that would interfere with the commerce of the country. The mature judgment of even the men who had been provoked into excesses by the extortions of railroad companies would sustain congress in this legislation. But whether it did or not, the duty of congress was the same.

Mr. Vest did not think the constitution gave Mr. Vest did not think the constitution gave congress any right over the question with which the amendment dealt. Besides the experience of the past few weeks showed that the states were entirely competent to deal with these matters. So far as Missouri was concerned, whenever any appeal had been made to the power of the state it had been responded to.

Messrs. Teller and Maxey agreed with Mr. Vest and Messrs. Cullom and Platt feared the amendment would embarrass and perhaps imperil the passage of the bill, and so opposed Mr. Morgan's amendment.

Finally the amendment was laid on the table. Yeas 49, nays 3.

The negative votes were those of Dolph, Edmunds and Morgan.

Mr. Brown offered an amendment providing for the punishment of persons injuring the property of a railroad company's tracks, bridges, cars, etc. Amendment would make it a felony to maliciously injure such property, and if death resulted from the injury then the offense should constitute murder.

The amendment was laid on the table.

The amendment was laid on the table.

Considerable debate then arose on an amendment of Mr. Plumb's, offered for him in his absence by Mr. Ingalls. It is the amendment of which Mr. Plumb sometime since gave notice, prohibiting members of congress, officials of government and their families from accepting free passes, and prohibiting railroad companies from giving them such passes, or reduced rates.

To this Mr. Teller offered an amendment prohibiting any of the subsidized railroads.

Mr. Edmunds said if Mr. Teller would extend the provisions of his amendment so as to cover not only subsidy roads but all roads coming within the purview of the act, he (Edmunds) would favor it.

Mr. Teller modified his amendment.

Considerable opposition was shown to this amendment, and on motion of Mr. Logan it was laid on the table. was laid on the table.

was laid on the table.

Some discussion arose as to the effect of the bill on clergymen, and to avoid doubt Mr. Brown secured an amendment providing that the restrictions of the bill as to reduced fares should not apply to ministers of religion.

Mr. Edmunds secured a similar amendment as to agricultural conventions and army socias to agricultural conventions and army society meetings.

An amendment offered by Mr. Spooner was agreed to, applying to the word "unlawful" to discriminations condemned by the bill, so as to bring breaches of its provisions within the technical meaning of the clause.

The bill was finally ordered reprinted as amended, and failing to arrive at any conclusion as to when a vote should be taken, the senate at 6:25 adjourned.

Entitled to Their Seats.

Washington, March 11.—The house considered in committee of the whole and passed the bill providing for the appointment of a commission to ascertain and settle private land claims in the territories of New Mexico and Arizons and the state of Colorado.

The committee on elections submitted a unanimous report of that committee on the California contested election cases. The report, which confirms the right of all sitting members, was agreed to.

The house then went into committee of the whole on the army appropriation bill.

Mr. Grosvenor, of Ohio, moved to strike out the appropriation for the judge advocate general's department. He said that the department decided the cases without any knowledge of law and that the system followed by the department was outrageous. It was an excrescence on the army, adding to it nothing of grace, nothing of justice, nothing of marching of grace, nothing of justice, nothing one grace. of grace, nothing of justice, nothing of mar-tial efficiency. If it fell today, in one year nobody would remember it except to point to it as a monument of the greatest error that had ever existed in the army. This motion had ever existed in the army. This motion and Mr. Grosvenor's remarks started a long political debate, at the sod of which the motion to strike out was lost—82—92.

Pending further action the hour of five o'clock arrived, the committee rose and the

A Message in Relation to Utah—The Bartholdi Statue—Mexican Treaties.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The president sent to congress today a message calling attention to the condition of affairs existing in Utah, owing to the governor of that territory vetoing the last appropriation bill which appropriated money for the support of schools, courts, charitable institutions, etc., referring to the fact that under the existing law the legislature cannot convene for nearly two years and recommending the speedy enactment of such legislation as will authorize the assembly of the legislature at an early day.

Also a measure recommending congress to make an appropriation to defray the expenses of the inauguration of the Bartholdi statue. make an appropriation to defray the expenses of the inauguration of the Bartholdi status.

Also a message inclusing a communication from Secretary Bayard upon the Weil and La Abra treaty. Mr. Bayard calls attention to the dact that under a decision of the suprame court he has authority to withhold the payment of awards pending supplemental negotiations between this country and Mexico and to the rejection by the senate of the supplemental treaty. To relieve the action of our government from any ambiguity of legislative expression or the executive from any uncertainty as to his line of duty in relation to awards, he suggests that the attention of congress be earnestly invited to the present status of the claims and the duty of the executive to carry out the terms of the existing treaty in case the two houses adjourn without further action.

CHICAGO, May 11 .- Rev. Dr. H. R. Thomas

CHICAGO, May 11.—Rev. Dr. H. R. Thomas is quoted today as saying that about a year ago a club on the west side, composed of many wealthy and influential gentlemen, invited Spies, Parsons and Schwab to a conference.

"They were invited by card, and precautions were taken that nothing of the affair should get into the newspapers. They came, and we argued the question fully with them. They were well-posted, and at times made very violent assertions. Spies said that an anarchist was very different from an Irish dynamiter. He laughed as he described the attempt made on the British house of parliament. He said that if the assailants had known their business they would have placed better bombs there, but not that alone; they would have placed them where the hall was would have placed them where the hall was crowded with people. We have nothing personal against you, he said, referring to a gen tleman present, but we want your property. We do not believe in the distribution of property as a means of reform but in the destruction of life, we need prop-

New York, May 11.—John Most, the anarchist and fagitator, was arrested tonight at the house of Mrs. Fisher, No. 198 Allen street. Inspector Byrnes and four of his men made the arrest. Most endeavored to clude the officers by crawling under the bed of one of the female inmates of the house with whom he is said to have been a long time intimate. The defectives secured the anarchist a few hours after locating him. When the "apostle of anarchy" was pulled by the heels from under the bed, he presented a sorry spectacle. His "bullet head and puffy jowls," so said one of the officers, "were covered with dust and dirt." He became himself, however, and in a short time waved his arm aloft and shouted a demand for liberty for the people. He was handcuffed and taken to police headquarters, where he was locked up. He looked the picture of dejection. Most, since he went hiding, has spent much of his time in Newark, N. J., and on the Jersy city height. Most was found by tracking a man who sells him white paper for his anarchist paper. In the house where Most was arrested was found a Winchester repealing rifle with a bayonet and books upon dynamite, bombs and kindred topics.

The disastrous fury of the storm was confined to the north end of the city, except in the destruction of the Lathrop school building on Eighth street; the buildings generally, excepting those mentioned, withstood the fury of the storm. At 3 p. m., as nearly as can be learned amid the intense excitement and confusion, about twenty persons are known to be dead.

ELEVEN SCHOOL CHILDREN KILLED.

At Lathrop school eleven school children are reported dead. Of the four buildings wrecked all were more or less unsound. The school building has been twice condemned and the court house by many was considered unsafe. No one was killed except in these four houses. The storm, although entailing such heavy loss of life, was nothing of the nature of the tornado that visited the city three years ago. It was a violent wind accompanile by a flood of water and some hail which turned many of the streets into rivers. Signs and shutters, chimneys, etc., were blown with the gale, and a number of vehicles were overturned in the streets. Black clouds that rolled over the city created almost the darkness of night and made the timid ones crouch in terror in cellars. The streets were seen wandering ars. The streets were entirely deserted, and in some instances horses were seen wandering around attached to vehicles and seeking re-fuge from the pelting storm. The Lathrop school building was surmount-

Frank Smith, of Smith & Moflatt's spice mills, was killed in the ruins of his establishment, and his partner, Maffatt, was hurt. A good many people are reported missing who may yet turn up. List of the dead, so far as known, is eleven children and one teacher of the Lathrop schools; six killed at the overall factory; four killed at Smith & Maffat's spice factory, including Frank O. BRICK MASONS ANGRY.

An Assault Made Upon Imported Workme in Mobile.

MOBILE, Ala., May 11.—[Special.]—Several New Orleans brick masons supplying the places of the striking union men here, were brickbatted and fired at with pistols last night on Dauphine street. While being pursued, a mulatte, James Gaines, of New Orleans, returned the five of the men and kent the second mulatte, James Gaines, of New Orleans, returned the fire of the mob and kept the assailants at bay until his comrades reached a place of safety. Gaines was arrested for discharging fire arms, and a negro, John Busby, was arrested for assault with a pistol on Gaines. The first case was tried this morning. Gaines showed that a threat had been made by means of an anonymous note, signed vigilance committee, ordering himself and fellows back to New Orleans, or to abide the serious consequences. Some of the assailants are said to be union men, but it is denied by the union.

"Yes; it is genuine, and is correct, except in one sentence. I see the types have taken the emphasis out of that sentence and made it ridiculous. I am represented as saying:

In the hands of men entirely great the pen is mightier than the sword." To this I add: "In the hands of men entirely mouth, the gun is as harmless as the sword." In my original address I quoted the words of Bulwer as follows: "In the hands of men entirely expect the address I quoted the words of between as for-lows: "In the hands of men entirely great the pen is mightier than the sword." and supple-mented them by saying: To this I add: "In the hands of men entirely mouth, the gun is as harmless as his words.'

THE WRONG LIQUOR.

The Mistake Made by the Raiders in Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 11.—It has been ascertained that of the Polish and Bohemian rioters who regaled themselves with liquid refreshments when they sacked the drug store at Center avenue and Eighteenth street, last Wednesday, eight died, and at least four more are known to be beyond hope of recovery. The police have been too much occupied with police have been too much occupied with other matters to hunt up those who were reported ill, but a physician has been found who has attended some of the victims. He said it was undoubtedly true that the men had been poisoned by drinking the contents of bottles in the wrecked drug store. The stuff taken was mostly wine of colchicum, which greatly resembles sherry wine, and has a strong smell of alcohol. He said: "It is a virulent poison, and is almost certain death if taken into the stomach in any quantity over a spoonful. I have treated four, and have now spconful. I have treated four, and have now in my care three who are suffering from an overdose of the tincture of paregoric, no doubt taken at the same time as the colchicum and under the supposition that it was liquor of some kind."

The doctor gave the names of four who had died under his own notice and four treated by another physician. All are of the unpronounceable Bohemian or Polish orthography.

PRESS COMMENT ON THE GLAD-

The London Newspapers Predicting the Failure of the Fremier's Measure-No Further Medifica-tion to be Made-Mr. Glasstone and Mr. Chamberlain-Other Poreign News.

LONDON, May 11 .- The defection among the supporters of Mr. Gladstone has grown rapidly today. The number of adherents of Hartington and Chamberlain has risen from eighty-eight to 108. English and Scotch radical papers, that have hitherto supported Gladstone, now concur that his concessions are in-adequate; that a joint commission is practically impossible and that the home rule bill tically impossible and that the home rule bill is doomed to defeat unless crucial amendments be made. Its opponents calculate that there will be a majority of forty against the bill. Gladstone has been urged to set a day for the discussion of the bill and he has premised to reply on the subject on Thursday. One hundred and twenty-five members will speak during the debate. Sir Henry James will-open on Thursday, and will be followed by Campbell Bannerman and will be followed by Campbell Bannerman and William Vernon Harcourt. Chamberlain has prepared for a venomous attack on Gladstone. A union league is being organized in Ulster, the members of which are bound to ignore the decrees of the Dublin parliament, and to re-fuse to pay taxes levied by that body. The Duke of Bedford has sent a blank check to the liberal unionists committee. Other aristo-crats promise drafts for any amount that may be required. Forty-two members of the house af commons have joined the committee. The house of commons last night rejected the motion to abolish capital punishment by a vote of 117 to 62.

THE ENGLISH PRESS ON THE SITUATION.

LONDON, May 11.—The Times says:
Gladstone is mysteriously and surprisingly silent with regard to the treatment of Ulster.

The Standard says:
There is absolutely nothing in Gladstone's laborious references in regard to Irish representation at Westminster, which is likely to abate Chamberlain's hostility to the home rule bill. The absurdity of the devices which Gladstone hinted might meet with difficulty, exposed the fundamental weakness of the conception. with difficulty, exposed the fundamental weakness of the conception.

The Telegraph says:

It seems that Mr. Gladstone is so absorbed in the merits of his own project that he is unable to appreciate the import of the objections of Chamberlain and his followers who cannot possibly accept his concessions.

The Standard hears Sthat Morley and other cabinet ministers refuse to agree to a further modification of the home rule bill to suit the radicals. The fact was commented upon in the lobby of the house of commons last night, that while Mr. Gladstone made sympathetic reference to Lord Hartington he avoided the mention of Chamberlain.

The Pall Mall Gazette this afternoon says that Gladstone's speech last night made the bad worse and stated the fate of the home rule bill. It adds that Henry Labouchere, who had acted as intermediary between Gladstone and Chamberlain, had informed the latter that the premier was willing to make adequate concessions in order to secure the support of the radical leader and his adherents. The speech did not bear out this promise in the way it had been accepted by Chamberlain, and the Gazette says he was astonished and disgusted and openly declared in the lobby of the house of commons that he had been misled and would now oppose Gladstone's bill, "tooth and nail."

The St. James Gazette says there is no longmention of Chamberlain

Henderson's Raid.

Henderson's Raid.

Macon, May 11—[Special.]—Henderson seldom gets left and never gets justice. But Henderson is a good bailiff. Today he went to East Macon in search of an old buck darky who had abandoned his offspring. Henderson flushed his game, and the darky seemed perfectly willing to be arrested, but he pleaded for a moment's time to get his coat and shoes. Henderson waited, and the darky walked out at the back door and took an unceremonious leave. After a ten minutes' wait Henderson sent for him again, and to his dismay he found that the prisoner was gone. Henderson returned and the darky has not been found yet. His name is George Rockwell, and a further description is unnecessary. Even his wife, the prosecutor, has vamoosed and the prospect of a sensational trial has petered out.

A lively fight occurred in Baldwin county A lively light occurred in Baldwin country on Saturday, between two families, Hogan and Freeman, in which one of the Freemans was quite dangerously cut and the other shot. Two of the Hogan family were also badly beaten, one with a mattox and the other with a pistol. The fight began on the public road, where two of the Hogan boys attacked Morgan Freeman, which resulted in Freeman receiving a dangerous wound in the side inflicted. ing a dangerous wound in the side, indicted with a knife. On learning this the Freeman family gathered a crowd and attacked the Hogans at their home, when a general fight ensued, in which pistols, grubbinghoes ensued, in which pistols, grubbinghoes and wagon standards were freely used. In this fight another one of the Freeman boys re-ceived a pistol shot in the leg, and two of the Hogans were badly beaten with pistols and hoes. Morgan Freeman lies in a dangerous condition from the stab in the side, and three of the party are in jail with six others under bond, charged with assault with intent to mur-

THE LIQUOR QUESTION.

A Movement in Athens to Bring Whisky Back. ATHENS, Ga., May 11.—[Special.]—It is said that Smith is only one of a regular den of blind tigers who are in the habit of selling whisky in and around Athens, and that they have a blockade still in operation on Sandy

There is a man in Athens who says that if Clarke county will vote back liquor will pay $2,500 for a license, provided only two are issued in the county. He will also open on Bread street, without a screen, and have a separate door for the whites and blacks. Another party proposed to pay $4,000 for an exclusive liquor license.

CAMILLA, Ga., May 11.—[Special.]—Prohibition was successful in this county today by a majority of thirty. The negroes voted almost solidly for the sale. A few of them were firm against the sale. The vote was small but the contest warmly waged. The prohibitionists are jubilent. are jubilant.

Breaking up the Pool Business.

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 11.—[Special.]—The council proposes to levy a license of $5.000 on parties selling pools or combinations on baseball games. The ordinance will be passed ball games. The bendance will be passed next meeting. The penalty for not paying such license will be not less than $25 or more than $100, and not less than ten days imprisonment or more than twenty. This will break up the business.

To Go to Europe ATHENS, Ga., May 11.—[Special.]—On the 27th of next month a large party of Georgians will sail from New York on a tour through Europe. Mrs. Judge Hopkins, of Atlants, will chapterone the party, and she is expected in Athens today. Five ladies from our city will join the excursion.

Sick Children in Athens. ATHENS, Ga., May 11.—[Special.]—Mr. Hugh Taylor's little son, Charlie, is at the point of death in Athens.

Judge Erwin, of Athens, also has a very sick child. Judge Howell Cobb's little son is very low, but Mr. B. A. Stovall's little child is out of danger. There is considerable sickness among the children

A Brilliant Test of Speed and Effi-

A Brilliant Test of Speed and Emclency.

BOME, Ga., May 11.—[Special.]—This was firemen's day. At an early hour this afternoon hundreds of people assembled on Broad street and when the procession-started the street was densely thronged, many thousands lining both sides of the thoroughfare. Promptly at three o'clock the procession moved in the following order: The band, Chief L. J. Wagner and Captains W. W. Seay, of Mountain City, W. H. Steele, of Rainbow fire company, and John J. McDonald, of the Citizen's hook and ladder company. Then followed the and ladder company. Then followed the Rain bow engine and reel, the hook and ladder trucks and the Mountain City reel and engine, all beautifully decorated with flowers and evergreens. One hundred and forty fremen were in line and they were a fine looking body of men. After marching and countermarching amid great cheering the procession came to a halt, and preparations were made for prize ontests.

The Citizens Hook and Ladder crew made the first run with the reel, 200 yards, reaching the plug in thirty-two and a quarter seconds, but failed to unreel the hose, ewing to an acident. The Rainbow crew followed, running 200 yards with reel to plug, unreeling 100 feet of hose, making connection and throwing water in thirty-six and one-quarter seconds.

The Mountain City then made the same run, and threw water in forty three seconds. They reached the plug in thirty-one and three quarter seconds, being the same time to plug made by the Rainbow.

The Rainbow received the first prize and a tie between the two companies was declared

The between the two companies was deciared as to the second prize.

The contest for the third prize then took place. A run of twenty-five yards, without reel, was made, the ladder and hose picked up and carried fifty yards further, the ladder thrown up against a building and the hose carried up and water thrown over the building.

carried up and water thrown over the building.

The Mountain City made this run in twenty-five seconds and the Rainbow in twenty-seven and quarter seconds. The Mountain City made a superb run and the Rainbow was not far behind. The Mountain City was awarded the third prize. The runs made today by the three companies demonstrated, without doubt, that Rome's firement severally contest with naw volunter. can successfully contest with any volunteer company in the state. Rome is justly proud of her gallant firemen, and greeted them today with hearty cheers and intense enthusiasm.

Tonight there is much rejoicing, and the best of feeling prevailed among the members of the different companies. Chef Wagner and Captains Steele, Seay and McDonald de-serve great credit for the manner in which the programme of the day was carried out.

The Augusta Tourney.

Augusta Tourney.

Augusta, Ga., May 11.—[Special.]—The ninety-first annual tourney of the Augusta fire department took place today, and proved successful in every feature. The parade was fine, and attracted the admiration of all, extending in length probably a mile. The floral decorations of the hose carriages and engines even surpassed former efforts, and proved a valuable auxiliary to the success of the day. Contrary to expectation a number of visiting companies failed to arrive and participate, but delegations from every section were on hand, and the streets were as densely thronged as and the streets were as densely thronged as ever on a like occasion.

In the reel contest, Alert, No. 9, captured the first prize for the all through race, in 221.5 seconds. The prize for the fastest run to the plug was secured by Augusta, No. 5, 100 yards in 123. The prize for the grab test was won by No. 5 in 2215. Tonight the places of amusement are filled to overflowing, and many private residences are thrown open to the entertainment of visiting firemen. The day passed without an accident or incident.

In the 100 yard free to all contest, Bryan, late manager of the Charleston baseball club, won, and in the 300, free to all, Ramsey, of Mechanic, won in thirty-five seconds, six entries. In the steamer contest Georgia won the first prize with 293 feet, Citizen No. 8 second with 278 feet, nine inches; Clinch third with 273 feet ten inches. No bucket test was had.

"Queen Esther" in Covington. COVINGTON, Ga., May 11.—[Special.]—On Monday evening last, at Simms's music store, the oratorio of "Esther, the Beautiful Queen of Persia," was rendered by the Madison Amateur Dramatic club. The scenery was new and original, the costumes were rich and elegant. The rendition was fine and would have reflected credit upon professionals. The "Es-ther" of Miss Mittle Pou, the "Prophetess" of Miss Susie Shaw, the "Ahasuerus" of Mr. L. H. Foster, the "Haiman" of W. F. Martin, and "Mordecai" of A. W. Foster were especially fine. Mrs. W. A. Broughton, as Mordecai's sister, sustained her part admirably. All did well—we only particularize from the fact that those mentioned bore the more prominent parts. We commend the Madison club to all. Mrs. Jessie Nebhut Caldwell as pianist, added e Nebhut Caldwell, as pia Gainesville. May 11.—[Special.]—Rev. N. Keff Smith, of Atlanta, reached the city last night, and organized a choir at the Methodist church to conduct the singing at the Union meeting which begins at the courthouse to-night. Mr. Smith expressed himself as highly pleased with the attendance last night, and with the earnestness with which the singers have entered into the work.

The Rev. Mr. Rripm an evangelist of Alaman and the statement of the singers have entered into the work.

The Rev. Mr. Brimm, an evangelist of Alabama, will be here tonight and will conduct the services during the entire meeting.

A Negligent Mail Agent. A Negligent Mall Agent.

CANTON, Ga., May 11.—[Special.]—The mail agent on the Marietta and North Georgia railroad needs to be spurred up by the president's civil service rules, as he is so negligent of his civil service rules, as he is so negligent of his business as to make many mistakes and cause much trouble and disappointment among THE CONSTITUTION'S friends along the line. This morning the Ellijay paper mail was left off at Canton, and it is supposed the Canton mail carried to Ellijay. This pouch contained Sunday's and Monday's Constitution, and we will now not get them until Tuesday evening, unless almost by a miracle they are returned, by this evening's mail. by this evening's mail.

Macon Superior Court."

OGLETHORFE, Ga., May 11.—[Special.]—The regular May term of Macon superior court convened here yesterday morning, Judge Allen Fort presiding and Solicitor General C. B. Hudson in attendance. The grand jury was organized, with Hon. W. H. Felton as foreman, and the body is composed of some of the best material in Macon county. The charge of his honor, Judge Fort, to the grand jury was one of the clearest and most comprehensive charges ever given to a jury. The forenoon was devoted to assigning cases for trial.

Progress in Cleveland. CLEVELAND, Ga., May 11—[Special.]—Cleveland is looking up. Mrs. Mary E. Logan has donated a beautiful plat of ground of four acres, near the town, for a school site. The contract for building a large schoolhouse has been let out. Prof. John O. Hicks, formerly of Hayesville, N. C., is going to build up a school here.

The University Surveying Corps ATHENS, Ga, May 11.—[Special.]—The engineering students of the university, accompanied by Professor Barrow, left Monday morning on their annual survey. They will survey from High Shoals to Social Circle, a proposed ailroad line. The party will be gone a week.

Attacked by a Catamount.

From the Sumter, Ga., Republican.

A few nights since Will Bryant, of Lee county, heard a commotion among his dogs, and seizing a pistol, he hurried to the scene. On his arrival he found his dogs badly whipped, but his appearance gave them fresh courage, and they went for a strange animal that was, seemingly, a little larger than either of the dogs. They were quickly whipped back, and Will fired at it. The thing then rushed en him, and he tried to shoot again, but the pistol failed, and in an instant his hand was terribly lacerated by the beast. The dogs ran in again, and the beast run them off, and as it leaped the fence was followed by another shot from the pistol in Mr. Bryant's hands. Previous to visiting his place it had whipped out all the dogs for a neighbor a short distance off.

Butter in Colonitt

Butter in Colquitt.

From the Quitman, Ga, Free Press.

Ct. W. Hooker has two cows, native stock, guinea tribe, that give five gallons of milk per day and furnishes his family, nine in number, with more butter than they can consume. The result has been brought about by good attention and high feeding. We know another man who has over a dozen milkers, feeds scanty during the winter, none at all at other seasons and his family only has milk and butter three or four months during the year. This ought to settle the cow question.

and the whole section must be treated as auand abrogated by section 4237 of the ReStantes.

The also of opinion that the claim for pilotage present case is defeated by other provisions revised statutes. 4401 provides that "all rise scagoing vessels and vessels navigating the United States when navigating in the lection thereof, and all vessels propelled in the; and every coastwise seagoing vessel subthe navigation laws of the United States and rules and regulations aforesaid, not sailing register, shall, when under way, except on gh seas, be under the control and direction is licensed by the inspectors of steamboats."

2444 is as follows:
2446 is as follo

licensed or authorized by the laws of any such state, or of a state situate upon the waters of such state.

According to the agreed case the Saxon was a Constwise sea going steam vessel, was not sailing ander register, and, at the time when the defendant in error tendered his services, and, subseqently, when she passed up the river into Savannah, was under the control and direction of a pilot licensed by the United States inspectors of steamboats. She was, therefore, at the time, piloted as provided by that title of the statute, so that she was lawfully exempt from any pilot charges levied by any state or municipal government. The section expressly eacepts coastwise steam vessels from the regulations established by the laws of any state requiring vessels entering or leaving a port, in any such state, to take a pilot duly licensed or authorised by the laws of any such state, or of a state situate upon the waters of such state. The owners of the Saxon were, therefore, at liberty for employ any pilot, livensed under the authority of the United States, for the parlicular service in which he was engaged without regard to the provisions of the Georgia Code requiring it to accept the services of the pilot first teneered, or, in case of refusal, to pay pilotage therefor. The engagement of the services of the pilot actually taken, by previous centract, was equivalent to keeping him on board for that purpose during the whole voyage, ashe was, in fact, under pay from its commencement, and had he been actually on board at the time the defendant in error tendered himself as pilot, we think the right of the vessels to reject the Offer could not have been reasonably questioned. For the servensed, and the cause is remanded with instructions to take further proceedings therein according to law and in conformity with this opinion.

ATLANTA, GA., MAY 12, 1886.

m: Fair weather; nearly stationary temperature. For Virginia, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida and Alabama, fair weather, nearly stationary tem perature, winds generally southerly.

THE Pan-Electric investigation bids fair to occupy as much time as the famous star route trials. It is said that two reports will be made on the matter.

HERR MOST, the great socialist leader of New York, was last night pulled from under a bed by his heels, and carried to prison. It is a pity we are not able to chronicle his hanging instead of arrest.

THE adjourned meeting at the chamber of commerce, this morning, to consider the Cullom interstate commerce bill, will doubtless be largely attended. The questions to be discussed are of grave importance.

KANSAS CITY was visited by a severe hurricane yesterday afternoon, and twenty people were killed and great damage was done to property. Among the unfortunates were twelve school children and four work-

THE volunteer firemen of Rome and Augusta yesterday made displays of their skill in handling the hose. Large crowds were in attendance, and cheered the red shirts vigorously. Atlanta has passed out of the volunteer phase of fire defense, but the rare old days are still remembered with pleasure

THE admirable work of Colonel Frank A. Burr, in his interesting accounts following Mr. Davis from Montgomery to Savannah, has attracted considerable attention, and proved one of the most interesting features of the recent editions of the New York World, of which Mr. Burr is the special staff correspondent. Aside from being excellent pieces of journalistic work, they were especially gratifying to the people of the south in that they were free from the prejudice and misrepresentation which has characterized the general report of such occasions and incidents in the south, which could be turned into political capital. Colonel Burr has done much work from the south, and has always proven himself a faithful correspondent. He ranks foremost among American correspondents, and is a valuable addition to the staff of the World.

General Gordon Wants Primaries.

The charge that General Gordon is the candidate of a ring or clique, is utterly disproven by the fact that General Gordon and his friends ask for open primaries of the peo-

Conspirators and wire-pullers do not seek the ballot-box. They avoid the ballot-box. Their hopes are based on little courthouse meetings and back room caucuses.

General Gordon asks for primary elections. Major Bacon's friends denounce primary elections as farces. Major Bacon declines to join General Gordon in requesting the state committee to recommend primaries in every county. Major Bacon says the time has come when campaigns should be run in the interests of the people, rather than of certain men. That is precisely why we want primary elections. The primary cannot be controlled, or juggled, or throttled. It is the people themselves speaking through the ballot-box. Little courthouse meetings may misrepresent the people, and take snap judgment. They often do. The primary cannot and never does.

The impression prevails that Major Bacon is stronger with a few politicians in each county than he is with the people. His opponents claim that if his little coterie of personal friends in each county are not permitted to fix "little courthouse meetings," he will be beaten. It is also charged that Gen eral Gordon is the candidate of local rings, and that his election depends on wire pull But General Gordon and his friends ask for primary elections in every county Major Bacon's friends denounce primaries, and praise little courthouse meetings. Where does the "ring and wire pulling" appear

THE CONSTITUTION has always favored primary elections. They afford the fairest and clearest method of finding the popular will-the most certain and decisive way of expressing it. The small courthouse meeting, manipulated by a few skillful hands, are the curse of the party. In many case they have overthrown the party. In all case they produce dissatisfaction. The primary election clears the atmosphere, satisfies all factions, and makes the party decision authoritative. General Gordon and his friends declare for primary elections. Major Bacon's friends oppose them. Let the people decide which side relies on a ring and which side relies on the people.

The Public Lands.

A land famine can be averted during many years to come if congress can be induced stand firmly up to the good work of the public lands committee of the house. Thomas R. Cobb, of Indiana, is the chairman of this committee, and his associates are men whom the syndicate cannot corrupt. The value of their work in the committee room cannot be over-estimated. They are trying to recover for the people many millions of acres, and to pass laws that will prevent frauds hereafter,

In the first place, they ask congress to repeal the pre-emption, timber-culture and desert-land acts. Under the shelter of these laws most of the land-grabbing of the mo es and syndicates is done. All of them have been found in practice to encourage and protect systematic spoliation of the pub-lic domain to so vast an extent that at this moment only about fifty millions of acres of arable lands remain for boniesteds for the people; though, fortunately, if this cone does its duty, not less than one hundred and fifty millions more will be recovered.

The committee has also reported a number of land-grant forfeiture bills by which a vast area of public lands will be justly recovered for the benefit of the people, and held, if bed laws are repealed, for actual settlement on such terms as will rigorously guard them against land-grabbing.

One of the forfeiture bills has already passed the house and is in the hands of the senate public lands committee, where it has lain for several months. This bill declares the forfeiture of 8,000,000 acres of land in the heart of the southern states. These lands were granted thirty years ago, in 1856. Not one of the roads for which the land was granted has ever been built. On not one of them has even a mile of track ever been laid. On only one of themthe Gulf and Ship Island—has a spade ever been struck into the ground, and that was for mere speculative purposes, two or three years ago, in an endeavor to keep a grant alive which had long ago justly lapsed. these eight millions of fertile acres in the heart of the southern states have been held since 1856, for thirty years, through war and peace, sacred against the occupation of farmers and for the benefit of extinct or speculative corporations. Surely it is high time to restore these millions of acres to the public domain and to the use and occupation of the people. The names of the corporations for whose benefit these lands have been so long held are:

ong head are.

The Gulf and Ship Island railroad.
The Tuscaloosa and Mobile railroad.
The Mobile and New Orleans railroad.
The Elyton and Baird's Bluff railroad.
The Memphis and Charleston railroad.
The Savannah and Albany railroad.
The New Orleans and State Line railroad.
The Iron Mountain of Arkansas railroad.

By other forfeiture bills will be recovered for the public domain land grants not earned and justly forfeitable as follows:

The Atlantic and Pacific railroad, 23,871,300 acres—this corporation having earned and got 16,-000,000 acres outside of this.
The Ontonagon and Brule River railroad, 350,000

The Southern Pacific, in all, 12,000,000 acres.
The Houghton, Marquette and Ontonagon railcoad, 294,400 acres.
The Mobile and Girard railroad, 500,000 acres.
The Wisconsin Central railroad, 400,880 acres.
The California and Oregon railroad, 2,500,000

cres. The Oregon and California railroad, 2,500,000

res. The Northern Pacific railroad, 36,000,000 acres. There are other forfeiture bills to come but, if these are passed, and Oklahoma is opened to settlement, about one hundred million acres of good lands will be restored to the people. The action of congress and the fate of the forfeiture bills hinges at present upon the action of the senate public lands committee, of which Mr. Plumb, of Kansas, is chairman. The other members of the committee are Messrs. Blair of New Hampshire, Van Wyck of Nebraska, Dolph of Oregon, Teller of Colorado, Morgan of Alabama, Cockrell of Missouri, Walthall of Mississippi and Berry of Arkansas. Upon this committee the country waits.

Concerning the Y. M. L. A.

The citizens of Atlanta have just cause to be proud of the Young Men's Library association. From the first the institution has had many difficulties to contend with, and it has taken years of careful nursing to place it where it now stands. At the annual meeting of the association, last night, some very important suggestions were made in the report presented by Mr. Alex. C. King, the acting chairman of the committee on library and rooms. As these suggestions have a direct bearing upon the future of the institution, we desire to bring them prominently before the public. The report referred to suggests the creation of a regular book fund for the purpose of supplying fresh current literature. It is evident that something of the kind is needed. The supply of books should not depend upon sporadic and uncertain appropriations. Books are the very life-blood of a library, and the current has to be a continuous one. In this connection it is worth while to consider the int thrown out to philar men in other cities have done incalculable good by founding libraries. Perhaps some of our Atlanta rich men will establish a book fund for our library, or at least contribute to it.

The report makes another suggestion. It is that the library shall, if possible, agree with the city, in consideration of a certain annual sum to be devoted exclusively to the purchase of books, to throw open its doors, under proper restrictions, to the children of our public schools, thus becoming a part of our educational system, and virtually a free

The friends of the Y. M. L. A. will do well to consider these suggestions. With a little judicious assistance, the permanency of the library will not only be assured, but its influence and usefulness will be largely increased.

A Bad Example.

While the proposed eight-hour system of laboris under discussion, we should look about for examples.

The point is made that the working men of Russia enjoy intervals of leisure exceeding any benefits in that line resulting from an eight-hour limit. In Russia, under the sway of the Greek church, there are eighty saints' days in each year. These are held as holidays, and added to the fifty-two Sundays, make a total of 132 days in the year during which the laborer does no work. How does this pan out? The Russia working men being idle so much of their time, contract bad habits and give themselves up to drink. The general effect is bad. Neighboring countries, where the people enjoy few or no holidays, outstrip Russia, and undersell her, compelling her factories to close, disorganizing her industries, and pushing her along the road to bankruptcy. An attempt has been made to remedy the evil by increasing the duties on everything, but without avail. Under the eight-hour system, this country would be practically in Russia's condition that is, it would have too much idle time not devoted to production. Other countries putting in ten and twelve hours' work a day would knock at our doors with such an abundance of cheap products that we would be compelled to seek refuge behind an absurdly high protective tariff. This view of the matter is worth thinking over.

Experiments in Prohibition. The Rhode Island legislature is engage in devising methods of enforcing the newly adopted constitutional prohibition amend ment, and there is a diversity of opinion over the kind of laws that are offered for that purpose. Some think the enforcem of the amendment would be secured by barsh laws and heavy penalties, while others favor a moderate system. One bill looks to a special state constabulary, whose duties should not extend beyond the enforcement of prohibition. Others think the sheriffs should appoint special deputies for the work. Others think the present executive machinery of the state sufficient. The truth is, all are at sea, with no mariner to lead them up to safety and an enforce ment of the new law.

Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Kan-Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Kansas and Iowa have prohibition, and their experience is nettill of encouragement to the friends of prohibition. In Vermont prohibition is, in the absence of large towns, becoming the rule, and every year harshed measures are adopted. Special prosecutors are now employed in the Vermont courts, and everybody is invited to turn informer. A part of every fine goes to the informer. A few saloons are kept open, but they are subjected to frequent and heavy fines. In the course of a year one man in Rutland has paid over $3,000 in fines, and several others have each paid nearly as much. No doubt prohibition comes nearer prohibiting the sale of liquors in Vermont than in any other state.

The best kind of legislation in such a case is not yet agreed upon; but six states-Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Kansas and Iowa-and scores of local option counties are applying the crucial test of practice, and we will doubtless soon know whether harsh or soft penalties are the more effective in preventing the sale of intoxicating liquors. This state is very largely interested in the experiments,

Mr. Powderly's Circular.

The circular of Mr. Powderly to the Knights of Labor, printed in yesterday's CONSTITUTION, is a conservative and wellconsidered document. It shows, in the first place, that the general master workman realizes the vast injury that has been done to the order by the efforts of injudicious men, and he exhorts members to seek to repair this injury in the only way that it can be repaired, namely: by convincing the public that the organization is a conservative and law-abiding, and not a lawless or a revolutionary institution. Mr. Powderly perceives very clearly that this order cannot only have no power, but that it cannot hold its own forces together if it continue to make such serious mistakes as have marked its recent career in the west. He pleads eloquently in behalf of a programme which, by commending the order to the sympathy and consideration of the law-abiding and peace-loving public, builds up itself and proves a real benefit to the working men of the country.

He also calls attention to the injustice of the boycott as a means of carrying out the plans of the knights. He might have elaborated this point, but what he does say is suggestive enough to all intelligent men. His remarks in regard to the ambition of the individual workingman are on the line laid down by THE CONSTITUTION. The working man of to-day, if he is ordinarily intelligent and economical, is preparing himself to be the employer of tomorrow and the capitalist of the future. He cannot, therefore, afford to handicap his career by indorsing the violent and unlawful methods that have been cropping out in the west.

Mr. Powderly's circular is very whole some reading.

The following is a portion of an interesting letter written by one of the traveling agents of the mercantile agency of R. G. Dunn & Co., in reference to the Key West fire:

For a period immediately succeeding the fire a very deep sentiment of discouragement pervaded a pertion of the business community, and it seemed pertion of the business community, and it seemed a doubtful question between reconstruction and a practical abandonment of the island. But all this has given place to a feeling of general hopefulness, and a spirit of earnest activity which will without doubt find its development in a general re-building of the burnt district, and its consummation in the restoration of the commerce of the island to its former prosperous status.

It is generally to be deplored, however, that there is but little promise of improvement in the character of the structures that will be erected, so far at least as the material is concerned, except in isolated instances. Subsequent to the fire the city fathers voted in council, after a heated discussion of the subject, to establish a fire limit, but the ordinance relating thereto contained loopholes of of the subject, to establish a fire limit, but the ordinance relating thereto contained loopholes of such convenient dimensions that frame buildings, for business purposes, of all sizes and grades are beginning rapidly to dot the devastated district. It is true these are claimed to be but temporary structures, but grave fears are expressed that the fire limit law will be rescinded or become a nullity from the exigencies of the situation, in which place a second wooden town will shortly take the place of the old one destroyed. This is a potent factor in the problem of Key West's future, and needs to be studied.

CONSTITUTIONALS.

Peneil Paragraphs and Editorial Sh Caught on the Run. There have been contributions of Constitu-ionals from Nantucket, from Brunswick, from tube and from West End, why not have some from Boston? Here are some written by Dr. George Leonard Chaney, who has been visiting the public

Imagine yourself invited in due form, as I was Imagine yourself invited in due form, as I was the other day, to a dinner party in one of the public schoolhouses in Boston: "Mr. R.— B.—, principal of the school; and Mrs. H.— request the pleasure of The Constitution's company at dinner, a. —— day at 12:15 o'clock." So your invitation would read and you, if you are as obliging as usual, would send a grateful acceptance. Arrived at the school on the appointed day you would be ushered into the pagement—not an incommon place for the diningbasement—not an discommon place for the dining-room in, these crowded cities. You would full there a large room fitted with all the appartenances of modern cookery, and at the same time having an unmistakable look of a schoolroom. An immense cooking stove at the right as you enter would welcome you with its fragrant greeting and the boiling kettle, in hospitable mood, would politely lift its cover to you. But a sweeter if not warmer welcome would be extended to you by the lady in charge of all this richness. "What richness?" must tell you. The bill of fare is written on the blackboard. Here it is, and the cost of each course with it:

Potato scup...... Boiled fish and parsley sauce..... 5 cents 78 cent 6 cents Apple snow and custard... Coffee and crackers 20 cents $1.93

This furnished an ample dinner for ten persons and mirabile dictu, the fifteen girls of the school who prepared the dinner dined on what was left. These girls with their two cooking teachers were in attendance with their taking uniform of white caps and aprons. They not only prepared the meal, but they served it. The dining table was spread in one corner of the large room. The principal of the Winthron school sat at one end of the table and the good fairy, as rich as she is good, who has herself paid all the cost of this experiment in systematic training in cooking in connection with the public schools, sat at the other end. The superintendent of schools and I sat on either hand and other guests made up the circle. The flowers and fruit used for decoration and further refreshment were a gratuity and not included in the cost of the dinner

After a delightful talk on the progress of our old-time hobby of practical education, our dinner party dissolved into companies of two and three to investigate the apparatus of the school, In front of the stove was a long table shaped like a horse shoe, and furnished with fifteen full sets of cooking utensils and a gas stove or jet at each division of the table. Each class consists of fifteen girls. Two classes are taught each day. The pupils are taken from five grammar schools. They are allowed to give one forenoon of afternoon a week to these lessons, at the reques of their parents. Two such annexes, accommo dating nine of the girls' schools, are in successful operation in Boston. They are favored by the school board and heartily approved by the mas ters and superintendent of schools: but as yet, they are not supported at the public expense That is coming. Like all the improvements of this kind in old conservative places, the experiment must first be tried by private citizens and its value demonstrated before it can win public recogni and support. It is fifteen years since some of us approached the Boston school board with a peti tion for the establishment of industria schools. "Go and start such a school yourself," said the chairman, and then get us to adopt it. And so we did. And the hearty re cognition in the school system of Boston today, of the claims of industry upon the common school education, is due to a long series of experiments and demonstrations conducted at private expense and accompanied by unwearied persistence and gradual progress for the last fifteen years. As a result, the girls of the large grammar schools of Bo ton graduate with a really scientific knowledge of the arts of cutting, mending and sewing. Both boys and girls are early taught geometrical and mechanical drawing. And presently the girls will have the art of cooking at their fingers's ends, and the boys will all know how to handle edge tools without danger of suicide, and with a real resource for self-support. For the "whittling school" which began in our chapel at Hollis street, fifteen years ago, has culminated in a course of hand training for the boys in the grammar schools

Visit, when you come to Boston, the rooms in the Latin school palace-for the building is palatial in plan and finish-where boys are taught at the ublic expense to use the wood-working tools with skill. The defense of this practical training. which is found by experiment to be perfectly com patible with the best results in scholarship and even promotion of them, lies in the fact that handtraining is as essentialas head-training to make the householder the housekeeper and the self support ng citizen. What is demonstrably for the good of all is fairly admissable into the schools supported

I have not half told the story of the cooking school or the wood-working class, and cannot in one letter. But when I add that besides the systematic training in cooking, the pupils get a visible knowledge of the materials they cook; that they learn what proportion of albumen, water, ash, fat, are found in bread, beet, eggs, milk, and all the common edibles, and also what the constituents of the human body are, and in what proportion they are compounded, you will see how truly educated and scientific this teaching is. In a cupboard at the end of the room, in neatly labelled bottles, may be seen, first, not exactly yourself, as others see you, but your precise equivalents in albumen, water, etc. Then you may see just how much o each goes into the prepartion of one or another meal you may prepare. Fancy the comfort it must give a Boston man to see that baked beans and brown bread, his chosen Sunday morning breakfast, contain in best proportion the very things the human body most needs. But it isn't everybody that has his digestion. Some allowance must be made for that.

It is cheering to find on revisiting the city where one has labored amidst many discouragements for practical education that his old hobby has become the popular idol. There is even danger-now, that we shall run too fanatically into industrial education. For like all reforms, when people first take them, they incline to rashness. Industrial education as a system of hand and mind training is a plant of slow growth. It is still in its cotyledons. We must be content to go slowly and prospect a little before we occupy the land. Its best advocates do not press its claims on the merely practical and economical ground. Although this is likely to be nomical ground. Annuaga this most popular plea, educators can only accept it when shown to be truly educational. And as such, it is making sure way with them. I was pleased to see that your New York corre gave such a good notice of the recent exhibition of children work, given in New York un ler the suspices of the society for industrial education. At the annual meeting of this society, Mr. McAlister, the superintendent of the public schools of Philadelphia, made a very able address in justification co-education of head and hand. We attended the meeting, Superintendent Lewis, of Boston, and I, not only to tell the story of the progress of industrial education here, but to company tes with New York and Philadelphia and see what we could bring back. The latter city has put herself promptly in line with the great industrial revival which is going on all over the world. Like some other revivals, it has its excesses, absurdities false expectations and increaseable demands.

desined the new the "uncrowned monarch" is already on the march to his capitol, and surely every body can see that the conflict of the nation now is for industrial rather than martial supremacy. The competition of states and nations is for the market rather than the crown. cy. The competition of states and nations is for the market rather than the crown. Or if the love of conquest s still alive it is instigated by the lust of wealth. There are perils as well as blessings in this change of base, and we must not lose our love of truth for its own sake in our greed for its profitable applications but educators may always be trusted to move slowly. I have been looking for a sign of repentance of this purely scholastic method, in the school board of Atlanta, Surely, they do not mean to avoid the industrial revival which has been working in the older cities. After your vigorous and inspiring amouncements of last winter. I working in the older cities. After your vigorous and inspiring amnouncements of last winter, I thought Atlanta would surely lead the people of the south in the race for industrial education. Elementary manual training is the condition of the ultimate success of any technical institutions which the state may found. This is far from perfected as a system anywhere. But Atlanta might, if she would, lead in this new adjustment of mental and manual culture.

Certainly if she ever wishes to see her industries multiplied and prespered, she must provide for the industrial development by her educational methods. For it is true, as the Prussian educators were prompt to see and proclaim: "Whatever you would have appear in the dation's life, you must put into the public schools."

CHARTERED RIGHTS.

Another Feature in the Prohibition Question -A New Point to Consider Yesterday a rumor was current on the streets that the city council had convened in secret session to consider a new plan to evade the carrying out of prohibition after July next. The rumor could not be verified, but nevertheless it attracted much attention and caused onsiderable comment.

Those who reported the rumor stated that the members of the general council had been the members of the general council had been called together quietly, and that when a quorum had answered the roll call the doors were closed and belted, the window blinds fastened and the key hole filled with paper. Then a member of the body arose and said that the meeting had been called for the purpose of legislating upon the prohibition question. The gentleman held in his hands a copy of the city charter, from which he read that the city charter, from which he read that the city charter gives the city shoults. that the city charter gives the city absolute control of the whisky traffic within its lim-its. He then stated that the county had noth-ing to do with the city limits and asked:

'Can these chartered rights be taken away except by a bill directed especially at the clause in the city charter?' Can a general law repeal a section of the city charter?" Just what action the general council took pon the matter the rumor does not state.

Early in the day a CONSTITUTION reporter attempted to ascertain the truth of the rumor, and in his investigation he found that no such meeting had occurred, but he also found that the very question rumor placed before the meeting was being warmly discussed on the streets. The leading prohibitionists streets. The leading prohibitionists and the leading anti-prohibitionists had heard the rumor in all its details and were discussing the point as a new one in the consideration of the question. The city charter does give to the city the absolute control of the liquor traffic and prevents the county from interfering therewith, and those who discussed this clause asked themselves whether tlemen discussing the question generally answered it in accordance with their feelings. Several prominent gentlemen were approached upon the question, but in each instance the answer was just what might have been expected from his position upon the question.

The question is decidedly a new one in the prohibition situation, and will be watched carefully. Only five or six weeks remain before prohibition will go into effect, and during that time it will be considered.

PAUGUSTA, Ga., May 11.—[Special.]—Hon. A. O. Bacon was serenaded at the Central hotel this evening, and in response to repeated calls Hon. R. H. May announced that Mr. Bacon word address the throng from the temporary structure erected for the judges in the diremen's contest which occurred today and which was directly in front of the hotel across the street.

The news that Mr. Bacon was in Augusta and would speak spread like wild fire and exerted enthusiasm the town over, and in fifteen minutes would speak spread like wild fire and a gated enthusiasm the town over, and in fifteen minutes two thousand were gathered around the frail structure and the crowd constantly increased as the major spoke. In substance, he said that he came to Augusta on a flying trip with no thought of a speech. For months the question of selecting a democratic candidate for governor had been considered calmly by the people. The names of several distinguished gentlemen had been suggested, but nearly all had declined. Only two avowed candidates remained in this canvass which was absolutely devoid of excitement or feeling. The general drift of preference seemed to act steadily in one direction. The popular mind was adjusting itself to circumstances as to the result. One of the avowed candidates gracefully retired. With his retirement came the excuse that it was necessary that some one commanding towering form should appear on the scene to heal the divisions and unite the factions. All was peace the Gordon leaped into the arena with dramatic accompaniment. With positions reversed, Bacon would never have acted as ordion did. The campaign will be heated, but Bacon will exclude improprieties. There would be no difficultinging on his part. Legitimate issues would be discussed, personal acts be criticized, but unclean scandal would find no mention from him.

One subjectnow earnestly concerns the public mind—the railroad ; commission. His position was fully stated in the Bain letter. The railroad commission was a fixed institution of the state. The third business question was the disposition of the State road. He himself opposed the sale of the State road. He preferred to lease under wise provisions, but whether sold or leased it should be done with an eye single to the public good. If leased, it should be held not nominally, but in fact by citizens of Georgia. The final reason against the sale is that the revenue from the same against he state is that the revenue from the same affords the strongest guarantee of the fund for the maintenance of the public schools without resorting directly to property taxation. The Sun is democratic to the core; not the representative of any man—any set of men—nor clique nor clan, but the representative of the people. Prompted by these sentiments we launch our frail bark out on the political ocean with the name of John B. Gordon at her masthead. We launch fearlessly, because from mature deliberation we feel that we are backed by the will of the people, and believe further that that will will be spoken and become effectual at the proper time. We admire General Gordon as a soldier—our father was a martyr to the cause which General Gordon so have a martyr to the cause which General Gordon was a martyr to the cause which General Gordon was a martyr to the cause which General Gordon was a martyr to the cause which General Gordon was a martyr to the cause which General Gordon was a martyr to the cause which General Gordon was a martyr to the cause which General Gordon was a martyr to the cause which General Gordon was a martyr to the cause which General Gordon was a martyr to the cause which General Gordon. We admire his record as a statesman and believe that in his every action he has acted what he though to be the best part for his constituents. We advocate him because of his undisputed ability. That he is an executive man no one will uvestion. That he is a man with a giant intellect, lofty principles and broad minded, liberal sentiments no one will deny. We are sensible that a great many of the newspapers of Georgia have already committed themselves and are forced to believe that they have advocated men prompted by a sense of their popularity and not a knowledge of their executive ability. We believe, too, that a great many editors have made known their own views, and that in a hasty manner and without sanction of the people. As we said in the beginning, after mature consideration, we come out and say the Sun is for Gordon first, second and third; and fully believe that

Courier strongly indorses General Gordon's proposition and says:

"General Gordon's proposition that primary elections are the best mode of ascertaining the preference of the people between candidates meets our hearty approval. As regards the three or four counties that have already appointed delegates to the state convention, it may be inappliable now because it might lead to contests and divisions, but it to general application the proposition is certain. because it might lead to contests and divisions, but in its general application the proposition is certainly a fair one. There never was a greater mockery, as General Gordon suggests, than the appointment of delegates by the chairman of a meeting or by a committee appointed by the chairman. As General Gordon intimates, delegates thus selected will be likely to repretent the preference of the chairman, but they may be in direct antagonism to the popular will. We have already had too much of this kind of party management, even in Floyd county. We hope that General Gordon's suggestion will be accepted, at least in its application to counties that have not already appointed their delegates. It will go far to repress faction and division."

This seems preferable to a convention; as it would no doubt give a fuller, freer and fairer voice to the entire voting population, and leave us free from the bitter feelings, complaints and dissensions which often follows the action of a convention of delegates. For at these primary meetings the people themselves speak, not through others, but in their own proper persons. And this is true, unmixed democracy.

of General Gordon:

Well do I remember his glorious achievement, when seizing the bridle of Lee, who was leading a charge to recover the day at that dreadful horse shoe in Spottsylvania, he commanded him to the rear and threw himself, with his gellant division, into the breach, piercing the enemy's lines, and finding his men outnumbered, overcapped and nearly overwhelmed by numbers, threw his lines back to back with a rapid maneuver, executed like lightning, under terrific fire, unfolded them fighting, with their faces each way and sweeping down their foes in the charge, and thus saved the army of Lee.

"See here, Peavy," he flared out, "I have seen that infamous yarn in a few fourth-rate papers, that were edited by hair brained fools, and you just do this for a man who loyes John B, Gordon: You just say in the outset that that yarn is a stinkin lie. There is not a man in Georgia who was with Gordon in Virginia, unless he is a derned sneak and coward, but that knows it's a d—d lie. Why, is, is he should do such a thing, his wife.—who, by the way, is one of the best women God ever made, and the only one I ever saw face yankee bullets—would quit him and teach her children to look on him as a traitor to his state. No, sir; you just say it's a d—d lie, to start with, and every old soldier in the state will back you."

"What about Mrs. Gordon facing yankee bullets."

"What about Mrs. Gordon facing yankee bullets?"

"Why this. At the battle of Winchester. Va. In 1864 we got badly whipped, for the first time duaring the war. Our army was demoralized, and every man was looking out for number one. The officers tried to rally the men, but as soon as a few of them would get together the bullets was and begin to fly so thick and fast from the yangee guns that it seemed a general stampede was inevitable. Just at this juncture, Mrs. Gordon, riding a beautifulf spirited pony, with General Gordon's headquarter flag in her hands, rode in among the flying bullets and retreating soldiers, sind at the top of her voice called out: 'Here's your General Gordon's flag, men; rally to fit! Well, sir, in less than ten minutes, she rallied more men than every officer in the army could have done in ten hours. Do you think the husband of such a woman could sell out, even if he wanted to? No, God bless her, it's a lie."

THE METHODISTS.

The Proceedings of the Quadrennial Con-

RICHMOND, May 11.—In the Methodist Episcopal conference today, a number of reports from standing committees were made. Among them was one making it obligatory upon bishops to consult with their presiding elders in the appointment of preachers. Laid over under the rules.

Rev. Wm. Briggs, of Canada, fraternal delegate from the Methodist Episcopal church in the dominion, was introduced to the conference. A paper bearing upon the subject of missions was presented by Drs. Kelly and Rennett.

committee, and himself a Bacon advocate, hasthis to say of what he terms "the Clarke county method":

Clarke county is determined to be in time with beridelegates to the gubernatorial convention. The state executive committee has not met yet to appoint the time for holding the convention, but clarke has already appointed delegates, and it will probably be more than three months before their duties are to be performed. With all respect to their county executive committee, we protest in the name of the democratic party against this hasty action. The selection of delegates to any convention should be postponed to as late a date as possible, in order that the people may have ample time to discuss the merits of each candidate. The delegates chosen are said to be for Bacon, and we have no doubt that a very large majority of the voters of Clark county would vote for this candidate. But the preference of the delegates or of the county for any particular candidate is not a question with which we have any concern. The democratic party of Georgia, however, has a very deep Interest in adopting plans for party action, which shall not have even the appearance of any thing like a purpose to take advantage of any candidate who is before the people, or who may hereafter in the canvas come before them, to ask for their votes. Clarke county having suffered much from the evils of independentism can ill afford to take any step, which would give just cause of complaint to any democratic candidate, and the premature selection of delegates to a convention which has not yet been called to meet would be hard to defend, as a party method.

The Douglasville Star runs up the name of General John B. Gordon for governor, and says of his letter:

His letter, as everything else he says or writes, Bennett.

The special committee on appeals, to which was referred the appeal of Rev. L. L. Pickett, from north Texas, and to which reference was made yesterday, refused to remand the case for trial. The report was signed by Bishop John C. Granberry and is final.

The report of committee on missions, to which was referred the resolution in reference to the appointment of a superintendent of foreign missions, recommended non-concurrence, which was adopted.

His letter, as everything else he says or writes, has the ring of pure gold. We hoist his name to the top of our masthead, as our choice for governor, and hope he will carry the state by a larger majority than ever Senator Colquit did. We say three cheers and a tiger for the scarred face soldier who has always, in field and forum, so nobly represented Georgia.

of a woman's department of church extension for the purpose of securing parsonages, be granted.

The committee also recommended certain changes in discipline in order to carry out the spirit of the report.

Dr. Poterson, of Virginia, from the committee on Bibles, submitted a half dozen reports in relation to changes in discipline. He also submitted a report of his committee in regard to a memorial from the Misouri conference, asking that the word 'south' be eliminated from the name of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, and a report on the resolution providing that church members signing petitions for the sale of intoxicating liquors may be dealt with as cases of imprudent and improper conduct.

To this resolution and to the memorial the committee recommend non-concurrence. All reports under the rules lie over for one day.

Dr. Kelly, of Tennessee, spoke to the effect that the conference would act very unwisely were it to indorse this, which, in the necessity of the case, must be made to undergo a continual change especially the book of decisions. guernation of the 22d of 3ty, putting the date off so that there may be no snap

The Columbus Enquirer-Sun knocks the stuffing out of the "proprietary claim" thus set up by the News, when it declares that no man "has any claim upon the gubernatorial chair that the voters are compelled to recognize." The Sun then goes on to say: "General Gordon has as much right to

ANOLD VETERAN TALES.

From the Douglasville, Ga., Star.

We were speaking the other day to a confederate veteran who has a very emphatic way of expressing himself, as well as a number of sears scattered over his anatomy, which were received during the war, and of neither of which he seems to be ashamed, when the subject of General Gordon's candidacy was mentioned. We asked him what he thought of it, and he replied:

"Do you remember the fearful cyclone that passed over Leeds, Ala., two years ago? Well, str. that cyclone was baby's play to the popular wave of sentiment that will permeate every nook and corner of Georgia for the gallant Gordon."

"Do you know," he continued "that every soldier now living in 6-corgia who was in the Virginia army, and nine-tenths of those who were in the other armies of the confederacy love Gordon the other armies of the confederacy love Gordon the other children."

"But," we suggested, "you know there is no man free from enemies, political or other wise, and don't you think they will injure Gordon by charging

Mr. Hass arose and said—"If we favor the bill the proper thing to do is to telegraph our representatives to vote for it. But if we telegraph what we claim is the sentiment of Atlanta and what really is the sentiment of Atlanta, the opponents of the bill in Washington will ask how many attended the meeting that set up to speak for the city. This thing is a disgrace and I think we would better take no action."

as in that worked the result we wanted. It was not a mere quorum. I don't feel like advocating anything here this morning."

On motion of Mr. Haas, citizens who were present but who were not members of the chamber, were invited to express their opinions just as though they were members.

HON. JONATHAN NORCROSS.

In accordance with that motion Hon. Jonathan Norcross made a few remarks. He said the city was practically unanimous in favor of the bill. He read some resolutions which he had prepared and which approved the Cullombill, and denounced the discriminations practiced by the railroads.

Major Campbell Wallace, chairman of the railroad commission, was present and was called on to speak. He declined, saying it would be improper for him to take sides and express opinions either way.

On motion of Mr. W. P. Pattillo a committee of five, with the president of the chamber as HON. JONATHAN NORCROSS.

of five, with the president of the chamber as chairman, was appointed to prepare resolutions to be submitted to a meeting to be held at eleven o'clock today: R. J. Lowry, Aaron Haas, J. G. Oglesby, John N. Dunn, and E. F. May. The resolutions prepared by Mr. Norcross were referred to this committee.

Mr. Louis Gholstin suggested that the committee do its best to get a good crowd.

Mr. Norcross suggested that the public be invited. His suggestion was approved by the meeting.

The meeting then adjourned. There will be another meeting at eleven o'clock today, and for that meeting the following call has Important Adjourned Meeting. ATLANTA, May 12, 1886.—To the public: At the regular monthly meeting of the chamber of commerce, held yesterday, the Cullom inter-state commerce bill came up for the consideration of the meeting. The importance of this bill in its bearing on the interests and future prosperity of Atlanta was considered to be so great that it was deemed advisable to adjourn the meeting until eleven o'clock this morning, and invite the public to attend and participate in the consideration of this question.

Some months ago when the question of the receivership of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad was before the courts, an announcement brought together a large and enthusiastic gathering of determined citizens. Now a question of far more vital importance to every business interest of Atlanta claims the attention of our citizens. No question of equal commercial importance to the country at large, and peculiarly so, to the city of Atlanta, has engaged the attention of congress for many years, if at all, since the birth of Atlanta And at this time there is no other subject upon which congress could possibly legislate that would be more, if, indeed, of equal interest to the welfare of our immediate city.

The citizens of Atlanta should speak out on this subject promptly, and in no uncertain sound. It is hoped, therefore, and urged that no private business may be deemed of sufficient importance to deter any business man or property owner in the city from being present at the meeting at 11 o'clock this morning.

The importance of this measure to Atlanta is so apparent that it would pay every business man in the city to close his doors and devote to it his entire time, from now until it reaches an issue i congress and becomes a law, if by so doing that end could be accomplished. Certainly, then, every one can afford to give an hour in lending encour-agement and moral support, in the most practical way possible. Don't let any one have to say "I for-

On Monday, 10th instant, a large and en-thusiastic meeting of the citizens of Houston coun-tywas held at Byron to take action concerning tywas held at Byron to take action concerning the proposed railroad from Atlanta to Hawkinsville. Dr. C. H. Richardson was elected chairman, and Dr. C. A. Warren secretary.

All of the proposed routes for the road were discussed, resulting in the conclusion that the most feasible would be to leave Knoxville, in Crawford county to the right, and follow the Gunter's landing survey by way of Taylon's store to Byron and thence to Holloman's landing on the Gemulgee river. A resolution was adopted inviting the attention of the people of Atlanta to that route, and also pledging the right of way gratis.

HEADLIGHT FLASHES.

At 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon the Pullman palace car Peace, one of the finest ever built, left Atlanta for Savannah, via the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad. It carried the delegates from Atlanta and points north to the convention of the Episcopal church for the dioces of Georgia. At the same time a special car, containing delegates to the State Sunday school convention, left for Macon.

Captain Ed Sisson, general southern agent of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad, was in Atlanta yesterday.

Master of Trains J. H. Garner, of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad, has resigned. His successor has not yet been appointed. Mr. Garner is well known as an efficient railroad man.

The Southern passenger agents' rate committee will meet in the office of Commissioner M Slaughter at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The meeting is for the purpose of fixing summer excursion rates Some really fine music was played this morning by the band which has been engaged for summer concerts in the L. P. Grant park.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER, now being introduced in Atlanta, has been before the public fifteen years, and wherever introduced during that time has, on account of its purity and great merit, superseded very largely all other similar preparations for producing delicious, light and healthful bread material. Hence the great anxiety and fear evidenced by manufacturers of other baking powders when they learn that CLEVELAND'S BAKING POWDER is working its way into a new locality.

The manufacturers of CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER, recognizing the fact that the public have a right to know what they are using as food, have for many years published their formula, which has been confirmed by analyses made by the Government chemists, State chemists and leading scientists of various States, showing that their Baking Powder contains only purest grape cream of tarter, bicarbonate of soda and a little wheat flour, the latter to preserve the strength of the powder, and that it does not contain ammonia, alum, lime, or any adulteration whatever. The public thus has not only the assurance that CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER is "absolutely pure," but the information also of what the ingredients are that enter into its manufacture. This latter information is too often withheld by other baking powder companies.

The scurrilous advertisements of rival manufacturers will not deter the citizens of Atlanta from giving an article Rich flatteringly recommended as CLEVELAND'S BAFd to a Reported at the New York Stock

NEW YORK, May 11.—There was even less influential news today than yesterday. The tone at the close last night was heavy, and so continuing through most of this morning, caused, it is supposed, by free selling for foreign account. This movement was soon exhausted, and the market became exceedingly dull, recovering as a consequence a firmer tone. The market opened weak uence a firmer tone. The market opened weak with everything lower, generally 1/8 to 1/4 per cent. Lake Shore, however, was down 1/2 and Dayton and Hamilton 1/8 per cent. After 12 o'clock the market became firm, and so remained throughout the afternoon, closing dull but firm. Fluctuations were within a narrow range. and hesitating advices from Liverpool, accompanied by weakness on silver, were the evident depressing factors. Considerable selling of long cotton and some shorting has taken place on the near months, while the pressure to put out contracts for the new crop was continued to a fair extent, though prices on the latter proved stubborn, in view of the quite little covering at margins of late secured.

The Magruder Mine and Plantation for Sale.

ON THE FIRST TUESDAY IN JUNE, 1886, AT the place designated for sheriff's sales in the town of Washington, will be offered for sale at public outcry the Magruder Gold, Copper and Lead Mine, located twelve miles from Washington, Ga.

The water supply is furnished by springs and branches, and is unfailing, and the buildings upon the property are in good repair.

Besides its value as a mine it is a tract of nine handred and one acres, more or less, of what is considered one of the most desirable and fertile plantations in the state.

The soil is a dark, rich chocolate clay base, mostly upland and lies well for cultivation. It is well timbered with oak and hickory principally, besides some codar, chestnut, walnut and pine. Torus cash, but purchase can be negotiated privately before day of sale.

FRED KROG'S CASE.—The trial of the suit of Fred Krog against the West Point railroad, is still pending in the city court. A motion to non-suit has been made, and it will be heard this morning.

Commissions Issued.—Yesterday Governor McDaniel commissioned O. P. Skelton treas-urer of Milton county, and S. S. Stokes ary public for the 539th district, Monroe county, vice George W. Sikes, resigned.—

A FIRE ALARM.—A pan of grease in the Headlight restaurant, under the James building, caught fire yesterday morning. The bright blaze caused considerable excitement and a fire alarm, but no damage was

WANTED FOR BURGLARY .- Joe Wrinkle, who has been wanted on a warrant issued in Bartow c unty, some mouths ago, charging him with burglary, was arrested yesterday by Officer Clark. Wrinkle will be held until the officers

REQUISITION FOR FUNDS.—Governor Me-Daniel received yesterday a requisition for nine hundred and thirty-three dollars for work done on the new school building for the deaf and dumb, at Cave Spring. The state in-stitution at that place is being greatly im-proved and enlarged.

Money for Bonds.—Yesterday afternoon Comptroller General Wright gave his receipt to Wolffe & Rogers, of New York, for $1,933,-791.88, the amount paid by them for the four and a half per cent Georgia bonds delivered to them by State Treasurer R. U. Hardeman. The money was deposited with the Fourth National bank of New York.

STEALING ONIONS.—Last night some thieves entered Dr. W. T. Goldsmith's garden, on Church street, and pulled up every onion the dector had been growing. Just as the thieves reached the sidewalk something frightened them and they dropped the onions on the sidewalk and skipped out. Dr. Goldsmith now has an abundance of withered onions.

Dr. J. M. Johnson's Condition.—Last night Dr. J. M. Johnson continued in a critical condition. He has hypertrophy and dilatation of the heart. Dr. A. J. Woodward is his physician, Drs. Logan, Todd, Taliaferro, Cummings and Miller being the consultants. Dr. Johnson is at the residence of Mr. A.W. Hill, 249 Ivy street. At his request, Rev. Dr. J. B. Hawthorne visited him yesterday afternoon.

WILL PAYNE IN AGAIN.—Will Payne, the young white boy who has served half his life nearly in the chaingang, was arrested last night on Peters street by Patrolmen Abbott and Lynam. Payne was quite drunk and was raising a row when arrested. He is wanted in Alabama for a case of burglary, and soon after his arrest the Alabama officials were telegraphed. Payne has been out of the chaingang only a short time.

Death of Major Samuel K. Hays.—Major Samuel K. Hays died at Covington, Ky., Monday, of cancer of the stomach. His illness was long and painful. Major Hays was a gallant soldier. He served four years as chief quartermaster with Lieutenant General Buckner. He was the father of the accomplished Miss Lida Hays, whose death was recently noted in these columns. Major Hays was well known in Atlanta.

A Dog's Bite.—Mary Bird, colored, has entered a suit for $5,000 damages against Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kries. She alleges that while passing the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kries her little son, aged six years, was set upon by an English mastiff, and she pulled the boy from under the dog, whereupon the dog furiously assalled her and bit her so badly that she has been permanently disabled. The mastiff was owned by Mr. and Mrs. Kries, and they are sued for the damage done. sued for the damage done.

HE FELL FROM THE SECOND STORY.—W. F. Cook, son of Major D. A. Cook, fell from the second story of the new capitol building yesterday and was considerably bruised and seriously injured. Mr. Cook has been engaged as derrick foreman at the building for the past twelve months, and as such has been subjected to constant mishaps, but has never been hurt before. Immediately after his fall Mr. Cook was taken to his home, and he was resting easy late last night.

A SAD BEREAVEMENT -- Mr. and High have been visited by a sad affliction. Up to Saturday their home was brightened by the presence of one of the happiest and most love-ly little children in Atlanta—their little son, ly little children in Atlanta—their little son, Ernest, aged two or three years. Saturday he was as well and as full of life as ever but Saturday night he was taken violently ill and Monday night his death occurred. Mr. and Mrs. High intended to have the funeral today, but yesterday that determination was changed and the burial occurred in the afternoon. The heart-broken parents have the sympathy of a large circle of friends.

HE CHOPPED A FINGER OFF.—S. G. Hardick, a carpenter working on C. M. Richardson's new residence on Bell street, lost one finger and parts of two other fingers yesterday by carelessly handling a hatchet. At noon several of the men were standing around a work bench. Hardick had a hatchet in his right hand and was striking the bench with it and at the same time moving his left hand to and fro under the hatchet as it descended. The last time the hatchet came down Mr. Hardick moved his hand too slowly and the sharp edge amputated the fore finger near the last joint and took off nearly two joints of the second and one joint of the third finger.

LAWSHE IN LIMBO.—Jim Lawshe, who several years ago served a term in the national penitentiary for counterfeiting coin, was up in the superior court yesterday charged with burglarizing an East Tennessee freight car. When Lawshe came back from the penitentiary he promised better things, but the evidence yesterday indicated that he had led a band of car-breakers who have been operating for several month. Four of his supposed partners are already in the penitentiary. Lawshe was found guilty yesterday, but has not been sentenced yet. The penalty for his offence is from one to five years. There are four more cases against him, and he will probably get quite a spell at the camp.

Shot Through the Leg.—Late yesterday

Shot Through the Leg.—Late yesterday afternoon Clarence Ward, a young negro man, whose home is—near the West End street car stable in Jamestown, shot himself through the leg, and came near bleeding to death before the flow of blood could be stopped. Ward has been in the habit of carrying a pistol and yesterday afternoon pulled it out of his pocket in a crowd and began "experimenting" with it. His careless handling resulted in a discharge of the pistol and the ball entered his left leg just below the thigh. An artery was severed and the loss of blood was great. A physician was sent for and succeeded in stopping the flow of blood after the darkey was almost dead from the loss. Ward was taken to the Ivy street hospital where he was doing well at one o'clock this morning.

DR. H H. CARY ADMITTED TO He Knew Nothing of the Charge Against Him and the Warrant for His Arrest Until He Read the Constitution Yesterday Morning-Major D; N. Spear His Bondsman.

Dr. H. H. Cary appeared before United States Commissioner Haight, yesterday, and gave a temporary bend for his appearance on the 21st to stand a preliminary trial.

Deputy Marshal McDonald left Atlanta for LaGrange at 41:30 o'clock Monday night. He carried a warrant for Dr. Cary's arrest. When he arrived in LaGrange, he discovered that Dr. Cary was not there. It is not yet known what steps he took in consequence, because Interview and that a deputy marshal was in LaGrange with it, Dr. Cary left the place early yesterday morning for Atlanta. He arrived at 7.15 o'clock, and went to the Markham house and ate breakfast. When he left the breakfast room, he did as twenty thousaud other sensible men do every morning. He procured a copy of THE CONSTITUTION and read the news. He informed himself concerning the tedious acts of congress, read with eager interest the latest accounts from the regions where labor troubles most do excite the minds of men, glanced over the last phase of home rule for Ireland, scanned closely the news of the state, skipped over to the editorial page and absorbed the words of wit and wisdom thickly studded there, turned to the fifth page and perused the most recent information concerning the gubernatorial contest, and then, as his eye fell upon the second column, was startled by the big black head line: "Dr. H. H. Cary's Trouble."

Until that instant, he knew nothing of the charges against him.

Until that instant, he knew nothing of the charges against him.

He ceased to read, closed the paper, walked out of the botel, and went straight to the office of United States Marshal Nelms.

IN THE MARSHAL'S OFFICE.

Marshal Nelms was sitting at his blue topped desk, busily engaged with a huge pile of letters.

Dr. Cary inquired the meaning of the article in the CONSTITUTION. Marshal Nelms told him all that he knew about it.

"Well," said the doctor, "I am at the first of the matter. I never heard of it before, and I'd like to know definitely what is the nature of the charges against me."

Marshal Nelms told him he could not furnish the desired information, as Deputy Marshal the state of the charges against me." nish the desired information, as Deputy Mar-shal McDonald was in LaGrange with the warrant containing them.
"When will be return?" the doctor inquir-

"I suppose," replied Marshal Nelms, "that he will return at 2:25, p. m."
"Then," said the doctor, "I will be in your cffice at that hour, ready to be arrested."
Promptly to the minute the doctor appeared in the office, and sat down to await the arrival of Deputy Marshal McDonald.

A CONSTRUCTION reporter turned was at the of Deputy Marshal McDonald.

A Constitution reporter turned up at the same time and proceeded at once to engage the doctor in conversation.

"What about the charges that are brought against you, doctor?" inquired the reporter, trying to sharpen a pencil with his teeth.

"I can't answer your question," the doctor replied, "because I don't know anything about them. I had never heard of them until I read in The Constitution this morning that a warrant had been issued for my arrest."

"You were postmaster at Antioch?"

"You were postmaster at Antioch?"
"Yes, a place about ten miles from La-Grange."

"Pid you have an assistant?"
"Yes."

"How long were you postmaster?"
"How long were you postmaster?"
"Twenty-seven years. I held the office for a period of seven years preceding the war, and for a period of twenty years after the war,"
IN THE COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE.

IN THE COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE.

Dr. Cary remained in the office of Marshal Nelms an hour or two.

When it was discovered that DeputyMarshal McDonald had not returned on the 2:25 train, it was decided to issue an alias warrant, in order that the doctor might give a temporary bond. Commissioner Haight was consulted, and the result was that he agreed to issue the warrant. The doctor was duly arrested. He accompanied Commissioner Haight to his office in the third story of the custom house, where the 21st instant was agreed upon as the time for a preliminary trial.

"I will fix the bond," said the commissioner, "at five hundred dollars,"

"All right," the doctor replied, "make out the papers."

the papers."
When they were ready, Major D. N. Speer took the necessary oath and signed them as bondsman. While he was writing his name the doctor said to him:

"I have been much gratified today by the number of gentlemen that have volunteered to do for me the service you are now doing."

"Well," replied Major Speer, "as soon as I heard that you were to be arrested, I sent you word that I would gladly be your bondsman."

Immediately after the bond was signed, the doctor left the commissioner's office, and sought his friends upon the streets.

The warrant as issued by the commissioner charged that the doctor had made returns for an amount of business larger than was transacted at his office, thus increasing his compensation. It was also charged that he used stamps for purchasing goods of various descriptions.

The dector informed the recovery that the tions.

The doctor informed the reporter that the charges were untrue. He resigned his office in 1885, and thought the settlement he then made complete and satisfactory.

The doctor's friends declare that their faith in his honesty is unshaken. The postal officials say that they have a strong case against him, and that they will have no trouble in establishing it.

THE ANNUAL MEETING.

The Capital City Land and Improvement Company Meets for the Second Time.

The Capital City Land and Improvement company held its second annual meeting last night in the chamber of commerce.

The stockholders in attendance filled the spacious chambers when Captain English called the meeting to order, and for quite a while after the meeting opened the attendance continued to increase.

The reports of the secretary, treasurer and finance committee showed the association to be in a most flattering condition. The reports showed that the par value of 6,698 shares of stock was $267,920; that there is due by stocknolders for sixteen months yet to run $107,168; that the cash in hands of the treasurer is $14,591.47, and that the association own real estate which cost $118,896.29 and which has been appraised by Messrs. A. Rosenfield, John Berkele, W. M. Scott, C. A. Collier and J. W. Rankin at $126,270. Each share is worth $25,55 while its par value is $24, thus giving a premium of $1.55

Scott, C. A. Collier and J. W. Rankin at $126,.270. Each share is worth $25.55 while its par value is $24, thus giving a premium of $1.55 on each share. This makes the percentage of the profit, 6½ per cent. The association has received from stockholders $169,265, and its receipts from all sources to date is $183,141.54 and disbursements $167,560.07.

The reports were highly gratifying to the stockholders, and before the meeting adjourned the stock had advanced several points. After the reports had been heard an amendment to the constitution was offered granting the directors the privilege of starting a bank or purchasing a controlling interest in a bank. The amendment was adopted. A resolution directing the executive committee to discontinue the collections of monthly dues because the association had no use for the money was offered, but not adopted. After all other business had been transacted the association elected officers for the current year.

The following gentlemen were then elected a board of directors for the following year: Josiah Elsas, Charles Collier, J. H. Ketner, W. A. Hemphill, John Calvin, Aaron Hass, David Mayer, A. Rosenfeld and John Berkele. The board has not yet organized.

FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS THE ARMSTRONG EVIDENCE. The Book Printed and New Awaiting the Orders of Bishop Beckwith.

Orders of Bishop Beckwith.

The evidence in the trial of Rev. James 6.

Armstrong has been printed, and the bound copies are now awaiting the orders of Bishop Beckwith. The volume consists of 308 pages, and is bound in paper. Twelve hundred copies were printed. The work was done by the Franklin Publishing house, and the book has been copyrighted by the bishop. A number of copies have been delivered to the bishop, and the rest are at the Franklin under Jock and key. The bishop declines to Jet any of them out and will not let them be seen until lock and key. The bishop declines to let any of them out and will not let them be seen until after his return from Savannah, where he has gone to attend the diocesan convention of the Episcopal church. It is said the bishop will have control of the books as far as issuing them is concerned, and it is supposed none of the books will be sold. Many believe the publication of the evidence will cause a renewal of the discussion over Dr. Armstrong. It is said there was an effort to get an "appendix" published, which was too late to get in and that Dr. Armstrong's friends will not be plessed thereat. There is some complaint also because Bishop Beckwith has copyrighted the evidence. because Bishop beckwith has copyrighted the evidence.

Bishop Beckwith, Captain Gay, Governor Bullock, Dr. Armstrong and a number of other gentlemen left yesterday to attend the convention at Savannah.

THE TOBE JACKSON REWARD. Statement of Marshal Nelms's Claim-What

Colonel J. A. Baker Says. The controversy over the reward offered for the arrest of Tobe Jackson is likely to be the arrest of Tobe Jackson is likely to be warm.

Yesterday Marshal Nelms prepared a statement of his claims preparatory to submitting it to Governor McDaniel. In substance, he contends that his agents tracked Jackson to Texas; that F. M. Aminet, of that state, acting under a promise that he should have the reward offered by Governor McDaniel, arrested Jackson; that Aminet delivered Jackson to Captain Ed Murphy, also Marshal Nelms's agent, and that Captain Murphy brought Jackson as far as Chattanooga on his return to Georgia. At Chattanooga, Jackson escaped. Semetime after Deputy Marshal H. C. Garrison, inspired by Jackson's friends, approached Marsbal Nelms and informed him that Jackson would be surrendered under certain conditions. inspired by Jackson's friends, approached Marshal Nelms and informed him that Jackson would be surrendered under certain conditions. These conditions were that Jackson should be punished only by a fine for the violation of the internal revenue laws, and that the intimidation case should be continued from the October term of the court until the March term, 1887. Marshal Nelms agreed to the conditions. The statement then proceeds to show that Jackson was rearrested by Deputy Marshal Garrison, Marshal Nelms's agent, and closes with the claim that as Jackson was finally delivered to the sheriff of Bartow county by that agent, the reward should be paid to Marshal Nelms, to be disposed of in conformity with the promise made to Aminet.

Colonel J. A. Baker, of Cartersville, who represents Deputy Marshal Garrison, the other claimant of the reward, was in the city yesterday. He called to see Governor McDaniel about the matter. To a Constitution reporter he expressed the wish to see in writing Marshal Nelms's claims. He said also he proposed to handle Marshal Nelms without gloves. Governor McDaniel will probably inform the porties at interest today of the time when he Southern Cultivator, May, 1886.

We refer the reader to the advertisement in this issue, headed the Magruder Mine and Plantation for sale. The plantation is in the fertile old country of Wilks and is said to be worth $20,000 alone. The mine of gold, copper and lead is one of the most valuable in the south. One of the most scientific and skillful metallurgists of New York after making tests of the ore, both at the mine and in his labortary in that city, says that properly worked the mine will pay a good dividend on $250,000. Attend the sale of this valuable property at Washington, Georgia, on the first day of June next, and secure a bargain. The Augusta and Chattanooga raliroad is now an assured fact. It will pass near by the Magruder mine and, in this respect, of course, will greatly increase its value. outhern Cultivator, May, 1886.

IS THE WAY THE BALL GOES TO

A very large crowd was present yesterday to see Atlanta disgrace herself in the diamond. The Atlanta players succeeded in playing miserably throughout the game, and long before its finish everybody present was heartly disgusted at the farce. There are probably a dozen amateur pitchers in the state that could discount Kimber's work in the box and there are but few amateur clubs in the state that could not have made a better showing than did the Atlanta club. Whether the burlesque was the result of honest playing or a throw off, a disgusted public can judge for themselves.

Memphis Shut Out. MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 11.—[Special.]—The attendance at the game of baseball played this afternoon between the Memphis and Macon clubs, numbered about 1,200. The visitors evidently had on their batting clothes, for they hammered the ball all over the field and gave the home club a whitewash. O'Leary was relieved by Sneed in the seventh inning, but this did not save the game. Umpire Brennan gave better satisfaction today, although several of his decisions were open to crit-icism. The crowd was sadly disappointed at the poor showing made by the locals.

An Interesting and Novel Communication Picked Up on Alabama Street.

Two handsome and attractive young ladies, pupils of the high school, while tripping along Alabama street yesterday, on their return home, picked up a letter, the reading of which seemed to afford much amusement. As they finished its perusal, a Constitution reporter happened to pass when they tossed it to him with a chuckle and rushed down the street. The letter read as follows:

Griffin, Ga., May 10, 1886—Dear Frank: Our mutual friend, H. M. C., of Albany, has been here for several days paying marked attention to Miss Susie, and from what I can learn his visits meet with much favor. Can't you arrange to come down next Sunday? Knowing the interest you feel in this matter, I would suggest that a visit at this time would do no harm. I will meet you at this time would do no harm. I will meet you at the train; will you do me the favor to bring several plugs of Baseball tobacco, which, in my opinion, is the finest flavored tobacco on the market. The boys all prefer it to any other brand, and I have agreed to givide. I suggest that yon burn this letter for reasons which you fully understand.

Atlantas today.

Charleston has strengthened her team very much, and says that when shell reaches Atlanta she expects to win back all the games that she lost to the Atlantas in Charleston.

The game this afternoon will be the last that will be played between the Atlantas and Sayannahs, and a brilliant and exciting game may be counted on, as Shafer intends to show the Sayannah hitters that they cannot pound him as they did in Saturday's game.

Mappes will play second base today, as Stricker is not yet in good condition. It may be possible that Stricker may be in shape to hold second when the Charleston club reaches here.

It is announced that Neal, the Ohlo wonder, will pitch for the Sayannahs this afternoon.

Umpire Young appears, to be very much off in balls and strikes, and this was especially the case in yesterday's game. He should stand a little nearer the plate, and at the same time watch the hases a little more closely than he did yesterday.

A very fine crowd attended the game vesterday, and those who desire good seats should go out early, as the Atlantas are determined to win today's game.

THE LIBRARY MEETING.

The directors of the Young Men's library met in the directors' room of the library yes terday, and transacted the usual busi ness preparatory to the annual meeting of the members, which took place last night. The directors present were all enthusiastic in the work of the ibrary, and were well pleased with its record for the past year.

But little business was transacted in the United States courts yesterday.

In the circuit court, David Pace, an account of whose arrest for illicit distilling was given in yesterday's Constitution plead guilty. He was sentenced to spend two months in the Fulton county jail, and to pay a fine of one hundred dollars. In case he cannot pay the fine, his term of imprisonment will be extended thirts days. President Walker stated that the debt on the building had been reduced $1.000 during the year, and that the work of the present board compared favorably with that of any previous board. The year has been a dull one, but the library had held up even better than pany vs. W. A. Wright, comptroller general, etc., was set for trial on Friday at 10 o'clock, a. m.

board adjourned until the meeting of the members in the evening.

The annual meeting of the members of the association was held at half-past eight o'clock in the rooms of the library. Ample accommodations were provided for those present, chairs being placed in the hall and in the double parlors. A noticeable feature of the assemblage was the attendance of the lady members of the library, theae being almost as many present as gentlemen. All manifested considerable interest in the work of the library, and the meeting was made a most pleasant one.

In the absence of President Walker, who left for Savannah in the afternoon, Vice President Joseph Thompson, Jr., presided. He made a very interesting talk, congratulating the board on its carnestness, and the promptness with which all business had been the nesceted, and closed with an appeal for the Trippe, the auditor, and were by him reterred to Judge McCay.

OFFICER'S REPORTS.

The reports of the president and treasurer, and chairmen of the different committees, were read and adopted.

In reference to the present condition of the library Paesident Walker says in his report:
And now what of your present condition. You have a property worth from forty to forty-five thousand dollars, a splendid collection of twelve thousand volumes, a magnificent start, with all the minutia of successful management, a competent and expert libarian and assistants. What is needed is a revival of interest in the growth of the association, manifesting itself in the active, practical exertions, addition of books, by donation and purchases, and increase of membership. The able, acting chairman of the library committee makes some wise suggestions, to which I carnestly invite your attention. The bonded debt, at your last annual meeting was thirteen thousand dollars. We have reduced it to twelve thousand—paying two five hundred dollar bonds and all accrued interest, on the entire debt. But for paying and repairs, we could have still further decreased the debt. The docrease in membership is more apparent than real—some four hundred members in arrears were carried over from last year—failing to pay their dues, the board, revised the list, and you now have the real—figures. Sudden and alarming illness in his family carried him from the city, and prevented the completion of a plan, which would have added much and have given the retiring board cause for congratulation. When disbursements have been confined to the income proper, for the past few years, a deficiency has existed. It has been our endeavor to decrease rather than permit an increase in the floating debt; hence we have been unable to increase the number of books by purchases, deeming it prudent and wiser to await better times and a more generous support. To those who remain and are to come, we earnestly wish great success.

MR. KING'S REPORT.

MR. KING'S REPORT.
Mr. Alex. C. King submitted the fol-Mr. Alex. C. King submitted the following very interesting report of the committee on library. It was received with much interest and was heartily commended.

ATLANTA, Ga., Ilth May, 1886.—To the members Y. M. L. A.: In the absence of Rev. G. L. Chaney, chairman of the committee on library and rooms, the duty has devolved on the undersigned of presenting for that committee its annual report for the year 1885-6.

In this report your committee feels it to be its duty to make a plain statement of the actual condition of affairs without attempt to gloss over the unpleasant fact of retrogression therein apparent; and to point out to the public the needs which must be relieved at an early day.

A comparative table of expenses shows the following to have been the cost of conducting the library for the past year, as compared with the preceding year:

1885-6.	1884-5.
Salaries $1,809.80 Fuel, lights and water 78.75 Books 107.89 Newspapers and periodicals 37.00 Stationery, printing, etc 86.85 Building, furniture etc 27.65 Binding 47.85 Incidentals 47.85 Miscellaneous 22.65	$1,896,40 276,56 322,20 27,50 318,14 32,75 92,88 114,70
$2,308.43	$3.081.13

Disregarding in each table the item for books, which is really a permanent investment and not an expense, the gross expenses of the library for the last year were $2,200.55, as against $2,755,33 for the year preceding. It is also but fair to state that about $150 of the outlay of the last year was used to defray bills coming over unpaid from former administrations. The income of the past year, as compared with 1884-5, was as follows.

Dues	$2,306.7 597.4 42.1 5.7
Total$2,431.05	$2,953.9

The number of volumes belonging to the library is now 11,557 instead of 11,391, as it was the case at the time of the last annual meeting, an addition of 166 volumes during the past year.

The circulation for 1855-6 has been 15,117 volumes; in 1834-5 it was 20,089 in 1883-4, 19,357. This is a very marked decrease, but it is explained by two facts: First, a want of new books, occasioned from wantof money. Second, the eutting down of the membership to list true basis, and the lopping off from the privileges and use of the library of a lot of dead heads who promised to pay, but sadly failed in the performance. As it is, the ratio of books read is better for this last year than for those preceding, being an average of nearly 22.5 books per members, as shown by the roll of members for 1885-5, and 17.49 for 1883-4. In the admirable report laid before this association by President Finch at the last annual meeting, that officer presented to the association a recommendation that the list of members be revised and purged of all non-paying members. This report your association approved, and indorsed it therefor the incoming board. After alludiar to the apparent inference in membership, Mc. Finch said: "Infortunately, they (the number of members as given) do not present the entire truth, for these are many members who have not paid their dues. This trouble had, during the past year, an increasing tendency. The subject of arrearages will present itself to the next (the present) board, and a revision of the membership will become, soon or late, very urgent, very necessary and very just. "The 'increasing tendency' of this trouble during the year 1885-6 warned your board that the evil was one which could not be cured by temporizing. We therefore applied the knife. Over four hundred names reported to our predecessors as in arrears, and not acted on, were directly of the rolls with a number of others who lapsed during the thour, members were elected by wholesafe the evening of the election in order to effect the result. These members joined solely to vote in that election; but few have remained; while the pride of successive administrations and the desire to avoid an apparant decrease in members, kept the names of these delinquents on the rolls. These delinquents this beard has derived. the names of these delinquents on the rolls. These delinquents this board has dropped.

The stringency in all departments of business has caused a good many resignations. People regard the library as a kind of a inxury, and its annual dues as a very proper fund upon which to begin the practice of rigid economy. This cause has lost us a number of members. Your committee has labored during the past year under great embarrassment from want of funds with which to buy books and to this want it attributed no little of the manifest want of interest evinced towards the library by the public.

In this connection the writer of this report would hazard the suggestion, that the future prosperity of the library is largely dependent upon a regular book fund, with which to supply fresh current literature. While the sporadic appropriations of various boards might exceed in aggregate the amount desired from a regular fund—yet a regular supply of money, furnished at frequents ted periods, enabling the committee to calculate with certainty on its resources, to shape its policy in the light of a fixed income and to keep at least a small number of new books always on hand is much to be preferred and would be most advantageous. A regular appropriation by the board of at least $25 per mouth or better stiff the creation of a fund yielding at least this income would be of great utility. The present income of the association scemes to/forbid this. May it not be hoped that some public spirited philanthropist will find in this channel an opportunity of benefiting his fellow citizens and enshrining his name in the ever living memorial of a great benefaction. In this day when public charities abound, when vast sums are raised to erect costly buildings devoted to the improvement of our youth can it not be hoped that this library with its great possibilities may share in this prodigal bounty. It is an institution capable of reaching wider classes than any other institution can reach. Many who conscious of want of religious merit or pletistic drink freely of its intellectual springs. It is would rishlight the highest aim and purpose of its founders and their successors.

The writer would further suggest a scheme of relief, which was presented at one time by him to certain members of the board, and received their approval, but which it was deemed importune to their attempt. It is here suggested in the hope that in abler hands, at a more favorable season, it may become useful. In all of the larger cities of the north, where the public school system is found in its most perfect state, the public library is found existing as an integral part of the system of public education. That library privileges are much needed by our public schools is attested by the epidence of our best teachers. That the establishment of a public library would overtax our educational fund is evident. But why list impossible for this library, with its foundation laid and running expenses already provided for, to agree with the city that, in consideration of a certain annual sum, to be devoted exclusively to the purchase of books, that it will under proper restrictions throw open its portals as a part of our system of public schools to the education of the children of this city. This would at once furnish the muchneeded book fund and fill the want of a public free library.

In concluding this report the committee desires to express publicly its thanks to the librarian assistant librarian and assistant secretary for their faithful and efficient discharge of the duties of which the association sustains in his retirement from the board.

In this connection, the writer is reminded that the ensuing annual election closes his term of service on their committee and on your board, Consceus of much in purpose and endeavor, which lies tailed of fruition, he leaves his colleagues with the hope that the coming years may bring to them the accomplishment of all that has been heretofore but unactuated desire, and that the association may attain that growth and strength and influence which has been theaim and purpose of their common labors.

ALEX. C. KING, Acting Ch'n Committee on Library and Rooms.

After the transaction of other matter of less manufacture the varieties. importance the meeting adjourned.

Let June Bring Its Fruit to Yon.

With its proverbial certainty, the 191st Grand Monthly Drawing of the world-renowned Louisiana State Lottery came off at noon, on Tuesday, April 13, 1886, at New Orleans, La., superintended by Generals G. T. Beauregard, of Louisiana, and Jubal A. Early, of Virginia, the commissionery officially selected. The result is briefly chronicled thus: Ticket No. 25,234 (sold in fifths at one dollar each) drew the First Capital Prize of $75,000—one fifth was held by Theodore Leutz, a well-known restaurant keeper, No. 8 Williams Court, the caterer for the Sherman House, Boston, Mass., and paid to him by express; another fifth was held by R. F. Bacon, a well-known citizen of Portland. Me., for a small syndicate of five friends; another was sold to Ernest Antz, a prominent engraver, of No. 22 Baronne street, and Thomas McMahon, a grocer at earner of Baronne and Fellefly streets; another by John Dasta, a saloon keeper, at the corner of Clara and Calliope streets—the last three named all live in New Orleans, La. No. 11,515 drew the Second Capital prize of $25,000, and was also sold in fifths at one dollar each—one fifth to L. G. French, of Colesburg, Ky; one to Henry Lotz, of Paterson, N. J.; one to John H. Minning, Tolgdo, O; one to a party in Gnatemala, Central America, one to Joseph Placet, 716 Case street, Davenport, Jown; other fifths to parties in Detroit, Mich. No. 78,786 drew the Third Capital Prize of $10,000, also sold in fifths at one dollar each—one fifth to Miss Annie Burke, of Washington City, D. C.; one to Christ Haas, of Washburn, Ill.; one to Miss M. Mueller, No. 396 Division street, Chicago, Ill.; others to parties in Galveston, Texas, and Spring City, Nevada. Nos. 8,688 and 52,139 drew each one of the Fourth Prizes of $6,000, and were sold in fifths at one dollar each—one fifth to Miss Annie Burke, of Washington City, D. C.; one to Christ Haas, of Washburn, Ill.; one to Miss M. Mueller, No. 396 Division street, Chicago, Ill.; others to parties in Galveston, Texas, and Sprin Let June Bring Its Fruit to You.

Is one of our strong points. As we make all the clothing we sell we are able to put as much style into a ten dollar suit as a twenty-five dollar one. Biseman Bros., 55 Whitehall street.

THE CHARITY BALL.

THE EVENT OF THE SOCIAL SEA-

The social event of the season was the Charity The social event of the season was the Charity ball last evening. It was given by the Woman's Exchange and under the auspices of the Rine O'clock and North side German clubs, and was a perfect success. It took place at Concordia hall, and from ten until two dancing was enjoyed by the large number present. The ladies in charge of the ball spared ne effort to make it one of the happiest to all who attended. The dancing hall was decorated in oriental style and with perfect taste, The walls were almost covered with palmetto leaves and entertwined with roses and other beautiful flowers; from the chandellers Chinese lanterns of every shape and size were swinging, and around the entire room was a string of lanterns lanterns of every shape and size were swinging, and around the entire room was a string of lanterns which shed their beautifully tinted lights upon the happy dancers. Also there were placed here and there most exquisite oriental screens. These screens were donated to the exchange, and proved of the greatest benefit in decorating, as they were pretty and attractive and added greatly to the beauty of the hall. The dining room was even more beautifully decorated than the hall. It was almost a wilderness of flowers. In the center of the table were placed bouquets of roses. In the middle of the room was the table of decorations. The table was laden with roses and lilies.

The table was laden with roses and lilies, and around it was a garland of green and white. In the center was a large candelabra, the light of which though, was over-of green and white. In the center was a large candelabra, the light of which though, was overshadowed by the beautiful colors of the rich and fragrant flowers. On the tables was spread a most sumptious feast. This was given by the ladies of the city, and it seemed that each one had given something different. The supper was, indeed, one of the most degand ever, served in the city. The costumes of the ladies were exquisite. Dancing was continued until a late hour, and even then the party seemed loth to disperse. Among those present were:

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Martin, Mrs. W. R. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. J. Lowry, Mr. and Mrs. John Clark, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Steele, Mr. and Mrs. M. Rich, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Steele, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Reagan, General and Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Wm. Dickson, Mrs. Traylor, Mrs. Livingston Mims, Mrs. Carroll Payne, Mrs. L. M. Beck, Miss Emmy Wade, Miss Miriam Armstrong, Miss Willie Conyers; Miss Roea Beck, Griffin; Miss Ida May Gartrell, Lelia Garrett, Miss Mamle Butwell, Richmond; Miss Pink Metcalf, Miss Grace Jones, Miss Franc Jones, Miss Laura Rose, Miss Corney Bullock, Miss Fannie Gordon; Miss Marry Rogers, Covington; Miss Mary Rogers, Covington; Kirk, Miss Fronie Hur son, Mr. D. C. Campbell, Mr. Ned Powell, Mr. Pete Grant. Mr. Shelton Sims, Mr. Hugh McKee, Mr. C. D. Lanier, Mr. Volney Bullock, Mr. Bart Glenn, Mr. Hiram Malone, Mr. N. W. Spence, Mr. John Hickey, Mr. N. S. Palmer, Mr. B. L. Jones, Mr. W. F. Plane, Mr. Lewis Redwine, Mr. Jones Eddleman, Mr. L. O. Garrett, Mr. B. S. Broomhead, Mr. Jim Eddleman, Mr. Osie Ellis, Dr. D. H. Howell, Mr. Charlie Johnson, Mr. C. T. Logan, Mr. Past Humpfeutt

at Hunnicutt.
The ball was indeed successful and brilliant, and could not in any way have been improved upon. After the supper there was a great deal left on the tables which will be distributed among the poor. The ladies certainly have a right to feel proud, for they have scored a big victory, and made a nice sum, which will greatly help the slok and needy of the city.
